

Regional Partnerships

Additional Resources for the Municipal Growth Readiness Checklist

Regional cooperation is an important element of improving growth readiness. Municipalities need to consider how regional cooperation initiatives assist a municipality in meeting their legislated responsibilities and contribute to their growth readiness.

Municipalities need to be aware of the benefits involvement in:

- Service sharing agreements and participation in regional planning initiatives;
- The impacts of new industry or growth in a neighbouring municipality; and
- The degree to which regional planning initiatives and service sharing agreements impact growth.

There are many types of regional partnerships, such as:

- Inter-municipal
- Municipal-First Nation
- Provincial-Municipal
- Federal-Municipal

General administration information

Visit www.saskatchewan.ca and search for the terms listed below to find additional information.

- Regional Planning
- Inter-municipal Planning
- Guide to Municipal Co-operation
- Partnerships

Suggested external sites to visit:

- Municipal Capacity <http://municipalcapacity.ca/municipal-resources>
Download guides and examples of inter-municipal agreements from their resource section.