Allowable Rate of Production

Date	Module/Application/Functionality	Notes
March 25, 2020	Allowable Rate of Production (Oil Wells)/Economic Allowance/Update	Well Infrastructure

Background

The Economic Allowance table – Appendix 4 of Directive PNG012: Allowable Rate of Production: Oil Wells has been updated. This update has caused a revision in the derivation of some Economic Allowance (EA) values on a well's Allowable Rate of Production (ARP) within IRIS.

Impacts

The EA value is now applied to greater depths on a well than was previously outlined. For existing well completions within IRIS the updated EA value will be input into those completions if applicable. A verification and update will be done on all completions that are not subject to a penalty or under good production practice. The ARP will update to the EA value if it is more generous than what was previously assigned.

Users may note a change in overproduction values due to the above change.

If any values appear to not be correctly generating or if there are any other questions, please contact the ER Service Desk.
