

Legal Export of Big Game from Saskatchewan

Big game hunters coming from outside Saskatchewan, except for Canadian residents drawn for white-tailed deer or Canadian resident non-guided black bear hunters, must use the services of an outfitter. You must also provide the appropriate documentation to take your animal home with you after your successful hunt. For game accompanied by the hunter, one of the following seals is required for export:

1. Big Game Licence Seal – This must be separated, completed and attached to the head (antlers) of the animal, hide and meat. A copy of your hunting licence, with the hunter's name and other information, including the seal number, must be immediately available for examination by an officer.
2. First Nations Export Permit – This must be separated, completed and attached to the animal.

If someone other than the hunter is transporting the animal out of Saskatchewan – to another province or another country – you will also require an export permit issued by the Saskatchewan Ministry of Environment. This is in addition to the orange big game seal or the green First Nations export permit.

Please Note: These are the ONLY documents recognized by the Government of Saskatchewan as legal permits for exporting wildlife. Hunters caught transporting wildlife without the proper seal or permit(s) may be subject to fines and seizures.
