

Become a Public Health Inspector

Seats reserved for Saskatchewan students at BCIT

Public Health Inspectors are in high demand in Saskatchewan and there are many job opportunities available with the Saskatchewan Health Authority (SHA).

Public Health Inspectors play a critical role in ensuring the health and safety of citizens in communities across Saskatchewan. They work to improve and protect public health through ongoing planning, inspection and consultation in public facilities such as restaurants, recreation facilities, public water systems and more.

The salary range for a Public Health Inspector at the SHA is $38.137 - $46.554 per hour. The SHA has a variety of job benefits including professional development opportunities.

What training do I need?

Saskatchewan reserves seats for eligible Saskatchewan students in the Environmental Public Health (EPH) program at the British Columbia Institute of Technology (BCIT). This two-year Bachelor program includes a mix of classroom studies on campus and practical learning through field trips, projects, hands-on learning and a three-month practicum back home in Saskatchewan.
