

Home Care Policy Manual

September 2015

PURPOSE OF THE SASKATCHEWAN MINISTRY OF HEALTH HOME CARE POLICY MANUAL

As the Home Care Program is administered and delivered by the Regional Health Authorities and funded by the Saskatchewan Ministry of Health, this manual is designed to ensure consistency of home care services and home care standards throughout the province.

The program expectations in the delivery of home care are addressed in this Saskatchewan Ministry of Health Home Care Policy Manual.

This manual provides direction and guidance to regional health authorities. The policies represent a statement of required course of action. Guidelines, on the other hand, are provided as recommendations to assist in meeting the expectations of policies. Adherence to the policies is one of the conditions under which funding is provided to the Regional Health Authorities by the Minister of Health.

It should be noted that this manual does not address in any detail, requirements which home care programs must meet as established by other legislation.

Home Care is an integral part of the continuum of care that includes both community and institutional services necessary to ensure the best possible quality of life for people with varying degrees of short and long-term illness or disability and support needs. An effective continuum of care requires strong community and institutional support sectors so that appropriate services can be accessed when and where they are needed.

The Board of each Regional Health Authority is vested with full legal authority and responsibility for the home care program. Though not limited to the following, the board is responsible for the observance of, and compliance with, The Regional Health Services Act and Regulations and provincial policy pertaining to the delivery of home care. The exception to this is the Athabasca Health Authority, which is responsible for the observance of, and compliance with, the Service Agreement between the Athabasca Health Authority and the Minister of Health and any policies pertaining to the delivery of home care.

The Regional Health Authority is accountable:

- a) through the Minister of Health to the Legislature for the proper expenditure of public funds to provide home care services;
- b) for planning, administrating and delivering home care services in the region; and
- c) for adhering to program policies established by the Community Care Branch of the Saskatchewan Ministry of Health.

The Saskatchewan Ministry of Health provides global funding to the Regional Health Authorities for the day-to-day delivery of health programs and services, including home care services.

The regions have the flexibility to use the global funds to provide a full range of home care services to help people remain healthy and independent. The regions strive to ensure that appropriate care is provided to clients in their regions. However, when considering the delivery of health care services, the Regional Health Authority must take into consideration the needs of the entire region, within available resources.

The Saskatchewan Ministry of Health would like to acknowledge the contribution to the manual by the staff of the Regional Health Authorities.

Subject: Purpose of Home Care

1.1 PURPOSE OF HOME CARE

Home care helps people who need acute, end-of-life, rehabilitation, maintenance and long-term care to remain independent at home. Home care encourages and supports assistance provided by the family and/or community.

Community Care Home Care Policy	Section: Introduction	Index Ref: 1.2 Page 1
		Date of Issue: September 2006 Revised September 2015
Subject: Objectives

1.2 OBJECTIVES

1. To help people maintain independence and well being at home by:
 - a) determining needs and abilities, developing and coordinating plans of care;
 - b) teaching self-care and coping skills;
 - c) improving, maintaining or delaying loss of functional abilities;
 - d) promoting and supporting family and community responsibility for care; and,
 - e) supporting acute, end-of-life, rehabilitation, maintenance and long-term care provided by family, friends and neighbours.

2. To facilitate appropriate use of health and community services by:
 - a) preventing or delaying the need for admission to long-term care facilities and assisting on discharge;
 - b) supporting people waiting for long-term care admission;
 - c) preventing the need for hospital admission, making earlier discharge from hospital possible, and reducing the frequency of re-admission;
 - d) helping individuals and families access needed services;
 - e) promoting volunteer participation;
 - f) educating the public about home care; and,
 - g) participating in local service planning and coordination.

3. To make the best use of home care resources by:
 - a) serving people with the greatest need first; and,
 - b) operating economically and efficiently.

4. To meet client needs and optimize client independence within available home care financial resources while working cooperatively with other community agencies, organizations and individuals.

Community Care Home Care Policy	Section: Introduction	Index Ref: 1.3 Page 1
		Date of Issue: September 2006 Revised September 2015
Subject: Philosophy

1.3 PHILOSOPHY

Home care is guided by the following principles:

1. People can usually retain greater independence and control over their lives in their own homes;
2. Most people prefer to remain at home and receive required services at home;
3. Support provided by families and friends should be encouraged and preserved and, if necessary, supplemented;
4. Service should assist individuals and families to retain maximum independence and avoid unnecessary dependencies;
5. Home care should assist people to access needed health and community services;
6. Home care should preserve and promote volunteer involvement;
7. Service decisions in home care should be based on assessed client need and the risk to the client if service is not provided;
8. Individuals and their supporters should help identify their needs, establish goals, and develop plans to meet goals;
9. People with the greatest need for home care should receive priority for service;
10. Individuals have the right to be treated with kindness, dignity and respect;
11. A person's right to live at risk to one's self and to accept or refuse services is respected;
12. Home care services should be provided respecting the client's cultural values and, whenever possible, by staff who are of the client's language and culture;
13. Regional Health Authorities should have significant responsibility for planning and delivering home care services;
14. Home care involves the planning and coordinating of local health and community services; and,
15. Home care does not usually provide services to allow caregivers to work at a long-term job. Home care is not normally provided to relieve parents from routine childcare.

	Introduction	Date of Issue: September 2006 Revised September 2015
Subject: Board Responsibilities

1.4 BOARD RESPONSIBILITIES

1. The Regional Health Authority is the governing body of the health region, which includes the home care program. The board is vested with full legal authority and responsibility for the home care program. Though not limited to the following, the board is responsible for the observance of, and compliance with, The Regional Health Services Act and Regulations and provincial policy pertaining to the delivery of home care¹.
2. The Regional Health Authority is accountable:
 - a) through the Minister of Health to the Legislature for the proper expenditure of public funds to provide home care services;
 - b) for planning, administrating and delivering home care services in the region; and,
 - c) for adhering to program policies established by the Community Care Branch of the Saskatchewan Ministry of Health.

¹ The exception to this is the Athabasca Health Authority, which is responsible for the observance of, and compliance with, the Service Agreement between the Athabasca Health Authority and the Minister of Health and any policies pertaining to the delivery of home care.

		Date of Issue September 2006 Revised September 2015
Subject: Maintaining Continuity of Service

2.1 MAINTAINING CONTINUITY OF SERVICE

GUIDELINES

Maintaining continuity of service includes:

- a) providing the same home care service providers to clients where feasible;
- b) educating organizations and providers about home care services;
- c) identifying major referral sources and establishing communication links;
- d) liaising with other organizations or Regional Health Authority services involved with clients (e.g. adult day program);
- e) developing an awareness of and integrating complementary services provided by other organizations and agencies;
- f) working collaboratively with other organizations providing service;
- g) referring appropriately to other organizations;
- h) ensuring relevant information is communicated in a timely manner; and,
- i) working with families/supporters to achieve continuity of service.

	Client Access to Service	Date of Issue: September 2006 Revised September 2015
Subject: Coordinated Access

3.1 COORDINATED ACCESS

POLICY

Regional Health Authorities, as a minimum, will provide coordinated access to long-term care, respite, adult day programs and home care. Other services may be included, as appropriate.

GUIDELINES

1. Coordinated access to long-term care, home care, adult day programs and respite services ensures that clients are prioritized based on greatest need.
2. Coordinated access enables the Regional Health Authority to identify gaps in programming and the need for new initiatives, and to effectively use resources within the region.
3. Coordinated access includes a case management approach, avoids duplication of service and ensures that appropriate service is provided.

		Date of Issue: September 2006 Revised September 2015
Subject: Eligibility Criteria

3.2 ELIGIBILITY CRITERIA

POLICY

1. Applicants for home care must meet one of the following eligibility criteria in order to have their applications considered:
 - a) hold a valid Saskatchewan Health Services card;
 - b) be in the process of establishing permanent residence in Saskatchewan and have applied for a Saskatchewan Health Services card; or,
 - c) be a resident of Manitoba or Alberta in a border area where contractual arrangements have been approved by the Saskatchewan Ministry of Health.
2. Regional Health Authorities must consider applications for home care from any Saskatchewan resident. Indian Bands may enter into contractual service agreements with Regional Health Authorities to request services for Registered Status Indians living on reserve.
3. Non-residents must apply for a Saskatchewan Health Services card in order to receive subsidized home care services beyond three months. This three-month period corresponds with the waiting period for coverage under Saskatchewan hospital, medical, and other health plans.

Non-residents who are not required to apply for a Saskatchewan Health Services card in order to access home care services include:

- a) students (who are in the province for less than 12 consecutive months);
 - b) individuals who have employment contracts for a maximum of 12 months;
 - c) interim refugees who are covered by Health Canada;
 - d) refugees intending to remain in Saskatchewan who receive coverage upon application for a Saskatchewan Health Services card;
 - e) RCMP who are covered under Health Canada; and,
 - f) individuals of Military and Corrections Canada.
4. Saskatchewan residents who are out of province and are eligible for home care services may receive services in another province. The Saskatchewan Ministry of Health will pay for this service based on the fee structure established by the Ministry. Prior approval from the Saskatchewan Ministry of Health is required.

	Client Access to Service	Date of Issue: September 2006 Revised September 2015
Subject:		Eligibility Criteria

GUIDELINES

1. Saskatchewan home care programs may accept applications from non-Saskatchewan residents staying temporarily in the province. Non-residents are liable for the full costs of all services provided, including assessment and coordination costs, but not administration costs.

2. In exceptional circumstances, where the charge for services provided imposes a serious financial hardship for the non-resident client, the Regional Health Authority may charge less than the full cost of service defined above. The Regional Health Authority should not charge less than the amount a Saskatchewan resident with the same income would be charged for the same service if she/he applied for an income-tested subsidy.

Community Care Home Care Policy	Section:	Index Ref: 3.3	Page 1
	Client Access to Service	Date of Issue: September 2006 Revised September 2015
Subject: Acceptance Criteria

3.3 ACCEPTANCE CRITERIA

POLICY

1. The Regional Health Authority shall set acceptance priorities based on assessed need and level of risk.
2. Individuals requiring a single service shall be assessed to determine need and risk if the service is not provided.
3. The provision of a single service shall not be linked to the requirement of an additional service (e.g. Regional Health Authorities are not to link homemaking to another service).
4. When an applicant is accepted to the program and there are serious reservations about safety, either for the individual requiring care or the home care provider, home care must:
 - a) set any conditions it believes are necessary to make service arrangements workable;
 - b) ensure that any conditions for admission are clearly explained to the applicant and to involved family members and supporters;
 - c) ensure ongoing documentation of client needs and circumstances, factors affecting service arrangements, and all discussions and agreements with clients and supporters regarding service arrangements; and,
 - d) ensure that the service arrangements are reviewed at least once a month.

GUIDELINES

1. Home care services may be provided to any person based on assessed need where:
 - a) the person requires care and support while living in the community; and,
 - b) the services to be provided do not replace the assistance usually provided by the family or community, unless necessary.
2. Home care services may be provided to:
 - a) determine a person's needs and develop appropriate plans for care;
 - b) improve a person's ability to function independently by teaching self-care;
 - c) prevent or delay the functional deterioration of a person;
 - d) provide needed assistance and relief to the family and others who are providing care to a person;
 - e) assist a person with a disability to function as independently as possible;
 - f) eliminate or delay the need for a person's admission to a special-care home, hospital or other care-giving institution;

	Client Access to Service	Date of Issue: September 2006 Revised September 2015
Subject: Acceptance Criteria

- g) maintain a person in the community pending placement in a special-care home or other care-giving institution;
 - h) allow a terminally ill person to remain at home as long as possible; and,
 - i) permit earlier discharge of a person from hospital or reducing the frequency of re-admissions.
3. The provision of home care may be reconsidered if:
- a) staff have serious reservations about the safety and/or benefits of providing services to the applicant;
 - b) the required help is available from others who are willing and able to provide the applicant's care;
 - c) the applicant is unwilling to accept the assessment process or care plan, or to cooperate with plans for delivering services;
 - d) the applicant's safety between service visits cannot reasonably be assured because of inadequate home support;
 - e) a life-threatening situation exists and the program cannot guarantee delivery of the required services;
 - f) the services required cannot be safely provided because of the applicant's home situation; or,
 - g) the program has inadequate resources (personnel or financial) to serve the needs of the applicant.

When serious reservations about the applicant's safety are involved, consideration must be given to whether or not the applicant will be better off with or without the service being offered. The right of the individual to knowingly take risks must be considered. A written agreement with the applicant should be considered.

4. Accepting Clients with Difficult Behaviours

Procedures should be developed for accepting clients when there are serious reservations about safety for the client or home care provider. Procedures must include:

- a) A definition of what home care is willing to provide and the conditions under which it will do so. These must be fully explained to the applicant, family members and supporters who are involved. What home care will do and what the individual and informal supporters will be responsible for should be clearly identified;

Community Care Home Care Policy	Section:	Index Ref: 3.3	Page 3
	Client Access to Service	Date of Issue: September 2006 Revised September 2015
Subject: Acceptance Criteria

- b) Documenting the agreement and all relevant aspects of the case on an ongoing basis. Documentation for decisions, actions and their rationales is the best evidence that the provider acted in good faith and in accordance with acceptable standards; and,
- c) Close monitoring of the situation. If the Regional Health Authority finds it necessary to impose additional requirements to those in the initial agreement, they must be documented and communicated to the client. If the client chooses not to accept these requirements, it may be necessary to discontinue services. The Regional Health Authority has the obligation to find service alternatives for the client and must not leave the client in an unsafe situation.

	Client Access to Service	Date of Issue: September 2006 Revised September 2015
Subject: Restrictions on Acceptance to the Home Care Program

3.4 RESTRICTIONS ON ADMISSION TO THE HOME CARE PROGRAM

POLICY

1. No applicant shall be accepted to the home care program if:
 - a) required services are the legal responsibility of the operator of the applicant's place of residence; or,
 - b) required services are not services the home care program is authorized to provide.

2. Professional Home care services (nursing, therapies, assessment and case management/coordination) may be provided to residents of personal care homes, group homes or special-care homes which provide supervision, programming and/or personal care and treatment to the residents. Some examples of homes, which fall into this category, are:
 - a) personal care homes licensed under The Personal Care Home Act where residents pay a fee to the operator in exchange for care. The care may range from minimal supervision to intensive personal care and nursing;
 - b) group homes under The Residential Services Act;
 - c) residential alcohol and drug treatment homes under The Housing and Special-care Homes Act;
 - d) special care homes under The Housing and Special-care Homes Act, (intravenous therapy in a special-care home may be administered by a home care nurse); or,
 - e) approved homes with a certificate issued under The Mental Health Services Act for the accommodation of patients who are discharged from an in-patient facility or who require the accommodation and supervision that may be provided in the home.

In such situations, there may be questions about the responsibilities of the operator and those of the home care program which need clarification.

3. Home care should not provide any service which is understood to be part of the care provided to the residents by the operator. There may be a written contract specifying the operator's responsibilities. If the contract is verbal, the home care program will have to attempt to determine what care has been promised in exchange for the fee charged.

Community Care Home Care Policy	Section: Client Access to Service	Index Ref: 3.4 Page 2
		Date of Issue: September 2006 Revised September 2015
Subject: Restrictions on Acceptance to the Home Care Program

4. Under no circumstances should home care assume responsibility for providing home maintenance, meals, or homemaking to a resident of one of these care homes. Assessment, case management, therapies and nursing care may be provided if the home care program has reason to believe that the operator does not have responsibility for providing such care. Any potential clients in the home would be subject to all home care assessment, admission, review and discharge procedures.

GUIDELINE

When it is not clear whether or not the service required is the responsibility of the operator, the Regional Health Authority should proceed carefully before reaching a decision about providing care. The problem should be discussed with the operator and other parties concerned, including the client and the client's family. The Regional Health Authority should not unilaterally withdraw services that have been previously provided without consulting the parties concerned.

		Date of Issue: September 2006 Revised September 2015
Subject: Priorities

3.5 PRIORITIES

POLICY

1. The Regional Health Authority must give priority to admitting and serving people with the greatest need for home care service.
2. The Regional Health Authority shall determine need through an assessment process, which provides a comprehensive multi-dimensional account of the individual's situation, including the person's functional abilities and home environment.
3. The Regional Health Authority will explore alternative ways of meeting the individual's needs as part of its assessment and care coordination process.
4. The Regional Health Authority must consider and balance the following criteria to determine the degree of need:
 - a) the more serious and immediate the consequences to the individual if service is not provided, the higher the priority; and,
 - b) if more appropriate alternatives are available to the individual, the lower the priority.
5. The Regional Health Authority shall consider the relative cost effectiveness of other appropriate alternatives available to the individual.

Subject: Accessing Services for Unpredicted Needs After Hours

3.6 ACCESSING SERVICE FOR UNPREDICTED NEEDS AFTER HOURS

DEFINITION

Accessing service after hours for unpredicted needs means, at a minimum, telephone contact with a person knowledgeable about the home care program. Appropriate action may include:

- a) coordinating arrangements to meet the client's needs; and,
- b) referring to a home care staff member, if required.

POLICY

1. Planned and predictable service based on an assessed need is available at any time (i.e. weekends, evenings, and nights).
2. Regional Health Authorities shall make 24-hour access to home care available to address unpredictable and variable client needs for existing clients.
3. Policies and procedures must address the following expectations:
 - a) clients must be able to access the Regional Health Authority home care program at any time of the day or night; and,
 - b) clients must be able to speak to a person at any time. Telephone contact allows the person taking the call to assess the service response required.

GUIDELINES

1. Access to home care "after hours" may not be with the home care program itself, but rather the request may be received through staff at the health centre, special-care home or hospital. The staff must be sufficiently familiar with the home care program to be able to respond in a knowledgeable way and to be able to assess the client's situation appropriately.
2. Some individuals may be able to wait until morning for service. Some situations may require a home visit to address the need, while others may require an alternative service response such as calling an ambulance.
3. HealthLine, a free, confidential 24-hour health advice telephone line staffed by registered nurses, may be able to assist some individuals. HealthLine can provide individuals with immediate, professional health advice or information, and direct the individual to the most appropriate care. This can include issues regarding mental health and addictions.

Subject: Referrals to Other Agencies if Unable to Meet Needs

3.7 REFERRALS TO OTHER AGENCIES IF UNABLE TO MEET NEEDS

POLICY

1. Regional Health Authorities must have a process in place to refer applicants to another more appropriate organization or another Regional Health Authority service when home care is unable to meet an applicant's needs.

Subject: Non-Acceptance

3.8 NON-ACCEPTANCE

POLICY

1. Regional Health Authorities must have a process in place to monitor all referrals and non-acceptance situations. The process must communicate the reason(s) for the referral and/or non-acceptance of the client.

2. All referrals and non-acceptance situations must be documented.

4.1 CONSENTS

POLICY

1. All information concerning an individual client is confidential.
2. Home care staff, regional assessment staff and Saskatchewan Ministry of Health staff have access to confidential information for program purposes only (i.e. on a “need to know” basis).
3. The Regional Health Authority must obtain and document informed verbal or informed written consent from the client as follows:
 - a) to assess the client;
 - b) to release the client’s personal health information to anyone other than regional staff and Saskatchewan Ministry of Health personnel; and,
 - c) to provide service to the client.
4. The Regional Health Authority must obtain and document informed verbal consent. To obtain informed verbal consent, the Regional Health Authority must ensure that the client has full knowledge of the specific actions for which the consent has been requested.
5. To obtain informed written consent, the Regional Health Authority must ensure that the client has full knowledge of the specific actions for which the consent has been requested, and that those actions are specified in the consent document signed by the client. A witness must certify the client’s signature.
6. When applicable, the Regional Health Authority shall discuss Health Care Directives and communicate this to appropriate team members.
7. The Regional Health Authority must have a policy regarding disclosure of health information with consent or as otherwise specifically authorized in *The Health Information Protection Act*¹.

		Date of Issue: September 2006 Revised September 2015
Subject: Client Rights

5.1 CLIENT RIGHTS

POLICY

1. The Regional Health Authority must establish written policies and procedures regarding the rights of home care clients. This includes the promotion and protection of each client's right to receive necessary information, to be given reasonable choices and to be treated with dignity.
2. The Regional Health Authority will ensure that processes are in place to:
 - a) ensure that clients understand their rights;
 - b) help clients exercise their rights; and,
 - c) investigate and resolve claims regarding a violation of client's rights.
3. Clients have the right to refuse service.
4. Clients have the right to live at risk.
5. Clients have the right to fully participate in the assessment process.
6. Clients have the right to participate in the service delivery and make personal choices within the parameters of services available.
7. Clients have the right to appeal service plan decisions.
8. Clients have the right to receive safe, appropriate and timely service.
9. Clients have the right to be referred to other appropriate services.
10. Clients have the right to participate in team conferences. Clients must be treated with consideration, respect and full recognition of their dignity and individuality.
11. Clients have the right to freedom from abuse, neglect or exploitation from home care staff.
12. Clients have the right to be assured of confidential treatment of their care records and personal information.
13. Clients, or the persons authorized to make health care decisions on behalf of the clients, have the right to have their concerns heard, reviewed and where possible, resolved.

GUIDELINES

Advising Clients of Possible Consequences when Exercising their Rights

1. In some cases, exercising a right may affect the ability to serve a client's needs.
2. The assessor is always responsible for ensuring that the client, or advocate, understands the possible effects of exercising a particular right and for documenting the discussion with the client/family/supporter.
3. For example, if a person refuses to undergo any part of an assessment interview, it would be very difficult for the assessment process to reach rational decisions about needs and services.
4. Similarly, refusal to allow the assessor to seek the views of a third party, such as a physician, might also affect the assessor's ability to make the best possible decision about needs and services.
5. If a client with impaired judgement makes decisions that could seriously compromise health/safety, the assessor must communicate this to appropriate others (e.g. family/supporter, physician and those involved with the assessment process).

Subject: Client Abuse

5.2 CLIENT ABUSE

DEFINITION

Abuse is considered any activity that causes physical, mental, financial or emotional injury to a client.

Abuse is a violation of a client's civil and human rights.

POLICY

1. Regional Health Authorities have a duty to protect clients from abuse. A zero-tolerance approach to client abuse must be enforced without exception.
2. The Regional Health Authority shall develop appropriate policies and procedures to ensure a zero-tolerance approach to client abuse.
3. Regional Health Authority policies and procedures related to client abuse must be clearly communicated to all management, staff and union representatives.
4. Client abuse is a reportable serious incident. Failure to report an incident or suspicion of abuse shall be cause for disciplinary action. Anyone who mistreats a client may be prosecuted under the law.

GUIDELINES

Client abuse may be defined as:

1. Physical Abuse:
 - use of physical force that may result in bodily injury, physical pain, or impairment including, but not limited to, slapping, pinching, pushing, striking, shoving, shaking, choking, kicking, burning and other rough handling;
 - force-feeding;
 - inappropriate use of medication; and,
 - forced confinement.

Subject: Client Abuse

2. Emotional/Psychological Abuse:
 - the infliction of anguish, pain or distress through verbal or non-verbal acts;
 - verbal assaults including, but not limited to, yelling, swearing, threats, derogatory comments, humiliation, intimidation;
 - denial of rights including, but not limited to, denying client participation with respect to his/her life; and,
 - social isolation including, but not limited to, giving the “silent treatment,” treating like a child/infant, isolating from family/friends/regular activities.

3. Financial Abuse:
 - misuse of client’s funds, property or assets including, but not limited to:
 - forcing a client to sell his/her personal belongings or property;
 - stealing a client’s money, pension cheques, or possessions; and
 - withholding a client’s money that is needed for daily living; and,
 - fraud, forgery, extortion.

4. Sexual Abuse:
 - molestation;
 - sexual assault; and,
 - sexual harassment.

5. Neglect:
 - abandonment of the client by the caregiver; and,
 - failure or refusal to provide with life necessities including, but not limited to, withholding of food/water, personal care or health care services, etc.

The Regional Health Authority’s solicitor should be consulted as needed when developing regional policies and procedures.

Subject: Client Responsibilities

5.3 CLIENT RESPONSIBILITIES

POLICY

1. The Regional Health Authority will ensure that clients understand their responsibility to:
 - a) participate in developing and carrying out the service plan;
 - b) be available at a given time for service, as agreed;
 - c) notify the organization of any changes that may affect the provision of service;
 - d) respect the human rights of the service provider (e.g. freedom from abuse, exploitation, and racism);
 - e) maintain a safe working environment for the service provider;
 - f) use equipment, which is necessary for staff/client safety, in a safe and proper manner;
 - g) agree to using equipment as determined through the assessment process to ensure client/home care worker safety; and,
 - h) ensure client/worker safety for equipment they have obtained privately by meeting the safety requirements of the manufacturer, maintaining the equipment and documenting preventive maintenance as required.

2. In situations where clients do not carry out their responsibilities, the Regional Health Authority will:
 - a) communicate client responsibilities (as indicated in 1. above) to clients and staff;
 - b) eliminate or minimize factors that contribute to inappropriate behaviour;
 - c) teach positive or desirable behaviour;
 - d) use restrictive actions only when all positive processes have failed;
 - e) integrate these actions into the plan of service as necessary; and,
 - f) document the situation and actions taken.

6.1 ASSESSMENT TOOL

POLICY

1. All assessments must be conducted using standard assessment tools, which have been approved by the Saskatchewan Ministry of Health.

The standard provincial assessment tool is MDS-Home Care*. Additional tools from the suite of interRAI instruments may also be used.

 with the exception of the Athabasca Health Authority.*

 Future implementation of additional screening tools may be introduced, e.g. Emergency Department screening tool.*

2. All assessment and care coordination staff must complete assessment training.

Subject:		Assessment Requirements

6.2 ASSESSMENT REQUIREMENTS

POLICY

1. The Regional Health Authority must ensure that all applicants are assessed prior to the provision of home care services.
2. Risk factors will determine the urgency of service provision or the decision that service is not required.

GUIDELINES

1. A comprehensive assessment should be completed for applicants who:
 - a) require one or more services;
 - b) require palliative care;
 - c) require case management;
 - d) have a progressive illness;
 - e) are high risk; or,
 - f) receive services from another agency.
2. When an eligible applicant requires immediate assistance, the Regional Health Authority may arrange services before an assessment is completed. The Regional Health Authority must establish procedures for initiating services in these circumstances. A full standard assessment must be completed as soon as possible.
3. The comprehensive assessment may be waived when:
 - a) only a nursing service is required (e.g. if the person only requires foot care). A nursing assessment must be completed in lieu of a full standard assessment; or,
 - b) only a single therapy service is required (e.g. if physiotherapy is required for a short period). A physiotherapy assessment must be completed in lieu of a full standard assessment.
4. The comprehensive assessment may be waived but a shortened assessment is used for:
 - a) meals on wheels for short term;
 - b) volunteer services; or,
 - c) home management or home maintenance for short term.

6.3 CLIENTS' RIGHTS REGARDING ASSESSMENTS

POLICY

Clients are major participants in the assessment process, not simply the subjects of assessment.

1. Assessors must ensure that the client, or the persons authorized to make health care decisions on behalf of the client (i.e. the advocate), are informed of their rights prior to the assessment interview.
2. Assessors are responsible for advising clients or their advocates of any foreseeable consequences of their decisions.
3. Assessors must inform the client or their advocates of their rights regarding their personal health information including:
 - a) when a trustee is collecting personal health information from the client, the trustee must take reasonable steps to inform the client of the anticipated use and disclosure of the information by the trustee; and,
 - b) a trustee must establish policies and procedures to promote knowledge and awareness of the rights extended to individuals by The Health Information Protection Act, including the right to request access to their personal health information and to request amendment of that personal health information.

GUIDELINES

1. In some cases, the exercise of a right might affect the ability of the program to serve client's needs (e.g. if a person refuses to undergo any part of an assessment interview, it would be very difficult to reach rational decisions about needs and services). Similarly, refusal to allow the management of the Regional Health Authority to seek the views of a third party, such as a physician, might also affect ability to make the best possible decision about needs and services. The assessor is always responsible for ensuring that the applicant, or advocate, understands the possible effects of exercising a particular right.
2. No applicant should be automatically refused admission to the program because he or she is unwilling to cooperate fully in the assessment process. A decision should be made on each case based on available information.

Subject: Clients' Rights Regarding Assessments

3. During the assessment process all clients have the right to:
- a) have their views and desires recorded during the assessment interview;
 - b) choose whether a family member/supporter is present during the assessment interview;
 - c) be present if an advocate or translator is required for the assessment interview;
 - d) refuse to answer any question or refuse to participate in any or all of the assessment;
 - e) view the assessment record on request and request amendments to the record (The Health Information Protection Act);
 - f) be consulted before the views of third parties are sought, and to approve, restrict or deny such access;
 - g) be fully informed of the program's service decisions and participate in care planning; and,
 - h) give their consent for any collection, use and disclosure of their personal health information, and the right to restrict release to third parties for the use of information.

6.4 ASSESSMENT AND APPROVAL PROCESS

POLICY

1. The Regional Health Authority must ensure that an assessment and approval process is in place to make decisions regarding care.
2. The Regional Health Authority must guarantee consistency in the determination of client's need for service.
3. The process must ensure the following critical elements:
 - a) the coordinated entry to home care and long-term care services and placement;
 - b) an equitable and consistent service across the Regional Health Authority;
 - c) a mechanism to monitor the assessment process; and,
 - d) the use of a consistent assessment tool.
4. The assessment process must:
 - a) ensure that the assessment tool and related manuals approved by Saskatchewan Health are used to conduct assessments;
 - b) review all assessment data to determine if an applicant meets all the eligibility and acceptance criteria;
 - c) evaluate the need for services and match the need with available resources as much as possible;
 - d) explore alternatives to meet identified needs, including referrals to other agencies and/or other Regional Health Authority services;
 - e) develop a care plan and a service delivery schedule;
 - f) name a person to coordinate the care plan and establish reporting relationships with service providers;
 - g) review the progress of clients at regular intervals to ensure that the services are still required and that they meet the needs of clients and their families;
 - h) ensure that appropriate plans are established for the care of clients upon discharge; and,
 - i) ensure that decisions are communicated to the relevant parties.
5. Clients must be major participants in the assessment process, not simply the subjects of the assessment.
6. A nurse must be included in the decision making process when nursing issues are being discussed.

GUIDELINES

Those attending the assessment and approval process meetings may include:

- client and/or advocate;
- other regional staff;
- supervisors of contracting agencies;
- medical consultants;
- therapists, social workers or other available professionals in the community; and,
- any other available person with knowledge or expertise that could benefit the decision making process.

6.5 CLIENTS' RIGHT TO APPEAL

POLICY

1. Clients have the right to appeal decisions made by Regional Health Authority staff.
2. Assessors must ensure that the client, or the person authorized to make health care decisions on behalf of the client, is informed of their right and the process to appeal when dissatisfied with:
 - the care being provided; or,
 - decisions about acceptance, service schedule or discharge.

Subject: Appeal Process

6.6 APPEAL PROCESS

POLICY

1. The Regional Health Authority must develop a policy that clearly outlines the appeal process.
2. The Regional Health Authority must have two levels of appeal:
 - a) the first level of appeal is to the respective program manager in the Regional Health Authority who is responsible for appeal assessment. The appeal assessor must not have been involved with the initial assessment; and,
 - b) the second level of appeal is through a Regional Appeals Committee as determined by the Regional Health Authority.

Clients and/or families may request the Quality of Care Coordinator to assist them through the stages of appeal.

3. The appeal assessor must reassess the client whenever significant assessment information is in question.
4. A thorough review of the case must be conducted within two weeks of receiving an appeal.
5. The appeal assessor must provide a written statement and explanation of his/her decision to the client and/or advocate. If this decision is appealed, the appeal assessor must then provide a copy of the written statement and explanation to the Regional Appeals Committee.
6. The Regional Appeals Committee must hear an appeal within two weeks of receiving an appeal.
7. The Regional Appeals Committee must hear from representatives of the regional assessment personnel and from the client and/or advocate, and may invite opinions from others as appropriate.
8. The Regional Appeals Committee must provide a copy of the appeal decision, including the rationale for the decision, to the regional assessment personnel and to the client and/or advocate.
9. The decision of the Regional Appeals Committee is final.

	Case Management	Date of Issue: September 2006 Revised September 2015
Subject: Case Coordination/Management

7.1 CASE COORDINATION/MANAGEMENT

DEFINITION

1. Case coordination/management includes assessment, planning, coordinating, implementing, monitoring and evaluating health-related services.
2. It is a collaborative, client-centred process that is continuous across provider and agency lines.
3. Case coordination/management promotes quality care and cost effective outcomes while addressing the health and well being of clients.

POLICY

1. The Regional Health Authority must have a structure in place for case coordination/management.
2. Case coordination/management must be implemented in the following circumstances:
 - a) high risk clients;
 - b) complex home care clients;
 - c) palliative care;
 - d) home care clients receiving services from other agencies; or,
 - e) client receiving more than one home care service.

GUIDELINES

1. Case Manager's Role:
 - In collaboration with clients/families, the case manager facilitates and coordinates services by linking clients with service providers and community resources.
 - The case manager works with families, friends, other caregivers and communities associated with the client.
 - The case manager is familiar with the client's goals and is continually involved in monitoring and ongoing reassessment.
 - The role and skills of the case manager are essential to an effective assessment.
 - The assessment tool provides direction to the case manager about the type and amount of information that should be collected from individuals.
 - The assessment tool also provides a place to document information.

2. Purpose of Case Management is to develop an approach that improves access to coordinated and integrated health services that are client-centred, community-based and meet the client's health needs.

3. Principles of Case Management:
 - a) respects clients' dignity, responsibility and self-determination;
 - b) recognizes and responds to clients' and caregivers' needs and expectations;
 - c) ensures clients are informed, are provided with options, and participate in making decisions;
 - d) respects the role of families, other caregivers and community resources in planning and implementing care for clients;
 - e) promotes easy access to timely and appropriate services (not only traditional health services);
 - f) respects the importance of confidentiality (Sharing of information should be client-directed on a need-to-know basis);
 - g) protects the rights of others as well as clients;
 - h) promotes coordination of services through a multi-disciplinary team approach;
 - i) fosters good communication, cooperation and collaboration among service providers, clients and communities;
 - j) promotes early interaction aimed at identifying people at risk;
 - k) emphasizes the support of independence and community-based living;
 - l) promotes and provides opportunities for education;
 - m) supports staff strengths and skills to deal with complex human issues;
 - n) promotes efficient, effective and equitable use of resources, focused on achieving positive health outcomes; and,
 - o) provides opportunity and information to collaboratively plan the health system and for the clients.

8.1 DEVELOPMENT OF CARE PLANS

POLICY

1. The care plan must specify:
 - a) the type and frequency of service the client needs and will receive;
 - b) the client-centered goals of the service with a target date;
 - c) goals that should be individualized, measurable and achievable;
 - d) the date that service will commence;
 - e) referrals to be made;
 - f) the role of the client in self-care;
 - g) services to be carried out by:
 - informal caregivers support network;
 - other organizations or agencies; and
 - the home care program; and,
 - h) service review date.

2. The plan should include:
 - a) health promotion;
 - b) illness prevention;
 - c) emotional support and counseling;
 - d) education to promote self care and independence; and,
 - e) transition/discharge.

3. The care plan must be updated on an ongoing basis to reflect changing needs, met or changed goals, altered service or support.

8.2 CARE PLAN PARTICIPANTS

POLICY

1. Clients and/or persons authorized to make health care decisions on behalf of clients, are participants in the development of the care plan.

GUIDELINES

1. Appropriate team members, clients and/or supporters collaborate in the development of care plans.
2. Care plans should be communicated to appropriate persons.

8.3 IMPLEMENTATION OF SERVICE

POLICY

1. Appropriate team members must implement care plans in a timely manner and document the service.
2. Services must be implemented according to accepted standards of practice and the Regional Health Authority's policies.

GUIDELINES

1. Continuity of implementing service is promoted by:
 - a) assigning the same individual(s) to provide service over time when feasible;
 - b) orientating replacement staff and volunteers to their assigned responsibilities and to the individual needs of clients;
 - c) having regular team discussions of clients' progress; and,
 - d) communicating appropriately with other agencies or other Regional Health Authority services involved in care.

Subject: Reassessment/Revision of Care Plans

8.4 REASSESSMENT/REVISION OF CARE PLANS

POLICY

1. The Regional Health Authority must have established procedures for changing care plans.
2. There must be a process for the case manager to approve all major changes to care plans.
3. A thorough review or reassessment of every client within ninety (90) days of the client's admission, and at least once annually thereafter, must be conducted to ensure the changing needs of the client are continuously met.
4. Additional case reviews or reassessments as warranted by the condition or situation of clients must be conducted.
5. All relevant information must be considered in conducting a review.
6. Reassessment must be conducted using an assessment tool approved by Saskatchewan Health.
7. Consents must be reviewed and documented with each reassessment.
8. Prior to making any major changes to clients' care arrangements, Regional Health Authority staff must notify clients and explain the basis for the proposed changes.

Subject: Authority and Requirements for Discharge

8.5 AUTHORITY AND REQUIREMENTS FOR DISCHARGE

POLICY

1. Clients must be discharged from the program at any time when home care services are no longer appropriate or required.
2. Clients who have not received a home care service for twelve (12) consecutive months must be discharged from the program unless they are living in a Personal Care Home.
3. Clients shall participate in planning for discharge from the program.
4. Appropriate and necessary contacts or referrals must be made.
5. Discharge plans, referrals, and discharge data must be documented on clients' care plans.

GUIDELINES

1. The Regional Health Authority will ensure that support is available for clients, informal caregivers, their support network, staff and volunteers following discharge, transfer or death of a client.
2. The support offered by the Regional Health Authority in the event of death may include:
 - a) individual or group counseling;
 - b) pastoral visits;
 - c) referral to other groups;
 - d) memorial services; or,
 - e) debriefing.

Subject: Re-admission

8.6 RE-ADMISSION

POLICY

1. When a previously discharged client is re-admitted into the home care program for service, the decision for re-admission is based on one or more of the following:
 - a) progress summary notes; or,
 - b) completion of the standard assessment tool approved by the Saskatchewan Ministry of Health.

2. The updated client care plan must reflect new or revised goals and interventions and must indicate a timeline for evaluation/follow-up.

Community Care Home Care Policy	Section: Client Records	Index Ref: 9.1 Page 1
		Date of Issue: September 2006 Revised September 2015
Subject: Client Records

9.1 CLIENT RECORDS

POLICY

1. The Regional Health Authority must maintain complete records on all clients receiving home care services.
2. Client records are to be kept confidential.
3. All records must be securely stored.
4. RHAs must have policies to ensure security and integrity of client records at all times.

GUIDELINES

1. There should be written policies and procedures indicating how the various forms are to be completed and used. Documentation should:
 - a) provide pertinent information on the condition of clients;
 - b) provide client care plans with specific goals and time frames;
 - c) outline various interventions by physicians, nurses and other persons who are involved in the care of clients;
 - d) communicate the response of clients to various interventions; and,
 - e) record actual care provided to clients.
2. All home care providers should be familiar with standard charting requirements.
3. Home care providers who are inexperienced in documenting client care records should be given the preparation necessary to perform the recording functions.
4. Client care records should:
 - a) contain sufficient information to:
 - identify clients clearly;
 - justify the reasons for admission;
 - identify problems including, where applicable, diagnosis of disease and subsequent treatment; and,
 - document the results of treatment.
 - b) document the care provided (the client's physical condition, problems, psychological status and goals, and client progress (or lack of progress) should be evident).

Community Care Home Care Policy	Section: Client Records	Index Ref: 9.1 Page 2

5. All records should contain at least the following:
 - a) identifying data (i.e. surname, given names, birth date, Saskatchewan Health Services card number, address, etc);
 - b) assessment form;
 - c) care plan, including goals and time frames;
 - d) social histories and, if indicated, a nursing history;
 - e) records of medications, therapeutic treatments and care provided;
 - f) the reason for any decision made and documented (i.e. signed on behalf of a client by any person other than the client);
 - g) physician's orders;
 - h) progress notes, flow sheets;
 - i) any record of action taken to arrange alternate care if the client is discharged; and,
 - j) a discharge summary, indicating the date and time of discharge, reason for discharge or cause of death, circumstances of discharge and person notified.

6. All data listed above should be maintained in a single client record.

Community Care Home Care Policy	Section:	Index Ref: 9.2	Page 1
	Client Records	Date of Issue: September 2006 Revised September 2015
Subject: Documentation Requirements

9.2 DOCUMENTATION REQUIREMENTS

POLICY

1. Proper charting is an essential component of ensuring the provision of quality client care. In evaluating the quality of that care, it is not possible to effectively determine what has been done for a client, how well it has been done, or what should be done in the future unless adequate documentation has been completed. It is important then, that:
 - a) anyone who is involved in the care of the client has access to the client care record; and,
 - b) irrespective of who provides care to a client, that person shall record the service provided and as necessary, the client's response to the service (i.e. charting by exception)¹.
2. Client care records are a legal document; therefore, care providers shall be familiar with charting requirements.
3. Client care records shall contain:
 - a) sufficient information to:
 - clearly identify the client;
 - justify the reasons for admission;
 - identify problems including, where applicable, the diagnosis of disease and subsequent treatment(s); and,
 - document results of treatment.
 - b) documentation of the care rendered and an indication of the clients' physical condition, problems, psychological status and goals, and client progress (or lack of progress) shall be evident.

GUIDELINES

Home care providers may use the following charting requirements when recording and documenting in client care records.

¹ 'charting by exception' infers that all standards for care have been met and the client responded as expected. Longhand charting is required when there is a change in client response, significant findings and/or when unusual events occur.

Community Care Home Care Policy	Section: Client Records	Index Ref: 9.2 Page 2
		Date of Issue: September 2006 Revised September 2015
Subject: Documentation Requirements

1. Identification of Client – The name of the client, the current date and page number should be recorded on each sheet of the client care record.
2. Permanency of Record – Client care records are permanent documents. Therefore, every precaution should be taken to ensure permanency. All entries must be made either in ink or another permanent medium.
3. Correction of Entry
 - a) Written Copy – The writer should then indicate that it is an “incorrect entry” and initial beside the incorrect entry.

The newly documented page may be labeled as “corrected copy” and placed in front of the original page.

- b) Electronic Documentation – Follows similar rules as paper based documentation. Electronic document should have accessible audit trail which captures date, time, person for every entry.

When there is correction, the original should be available with a time stamp and the new correct entry saved in the appropriate location and/or chart.

This is done in various methods:

- Electronic software can mimic this correction by showing a correction by putting a line through the previous entry and having correct entry as a new update or could overwrite with the corrected entry; however, the original is still available.
- Some software allows a deletion of the entry (cut and paste functions) but does maintain the legal record of changes in the audit trail functions in case the clinician has made a decision based on the previous documentation.
- Some software provides an alert function for corrections to the primary provider of the patient/client record (this is usually for lab result corrections).
- Flow sheet changes can also be charted and accepted with a corrected notation.

Either process is acceptable for electronic charting.

4. Timeliness – It is recommended that home care staff chart on a daily basis and immediately after a particular event(s) rather than waiting for an established charting time.

Community Care Home Care Policy	Section: Client Records	Index Ref: 9.2 Page 3
		Date of Issue: September 2006 Revised September 2015
Subject: Documentation Requirements

5. Individual Recording – The home care provider should only document the specific care provided to a client. Only the care provider who observed or performed the action being recorded should complete the recording.
6. Chronological Order – Information should be recorded in chronological order. This means events should be recorded in the order or sequence in which they occurred. If an entry is made out of chronological sequence, a notation should be made to that effect (i.e. in the nursing/progress notes, the writer should record the current date and time of documentation and then record the date and time of when the event/actions had originally occurred; an arrow may be placed indicating where the entry should be placed within the sequence). All notations should be dated and signed by the writer.
7. Abbreviations and Codes – Abbreviations in client care records should be kept to a minimum. Only those abbreviations recognized by all members of the home care staff should be used in the client care records.
8. Accuracy – The client care record must be accurate in all aspects. All home care providers must accurately record what is observed or heard and any relevant statements made by the client.

Accurate charting of medication administration and treatment given is as important as the administration itself.

9. Conciseness – The wording in the client care record should be short and concise in order to avoid misinterpretation. Forms should be designed in a fashion so as to eliminate unnecessary searches throughout the entire record and to save time in recording.

If flow sheets are used, there is no need to record on the progress notes unless something unusual has happened, or a change in the client's health status has occurred.

10. Legibility – All entries must be legible.
11. Uniformity – The system of recording information should be uniform throughout the home care program. No individual should, on his or her own initiative, add or omit items, which are not in accordance with home care policies or practices.

Routine events should always be recorded on the form. An event that is routine to one client, might not be routine to another.

		Date of Issue: September 2006 Revised September 2015
Subject: Documentation Requirements

12. Date, Signature and Initials – All entries must include the date, time, and signature of the care provider. When signing entries, home care staff should always identify themselves with their first initial and full last name, followed by their professional designation (e.g. RN, LPN, HCA, RD, OT/PT and RSW).

Unless the policy of the Regional Health Authority home care program states differently, initials may also be used. It must, however, be immediately apparent who initialed the entry.

13. Master Signature List – The master signature list should contain the names of all home care providers. The list should display the full name (printed), signature, initials and professional designation of each care provider. A copy of the master signature list may be kept on file in the client care records. All entries to the client care records must be signed in a clearly identifiable manner.

Subject: Incident Reports and Investigation

9.3 INCIDENT REPORTS AND INVESTIGATION

POLICY

1. The Regional Health Authority shall have a system to report and record incidents that have the potential to injure or result in actual injury to clients, staff or volunteers. This system shall also include the investigation of incidents and the development of recommendations to prevent future incidents of a similar nature.
2. A report shall be completed at the time of the event, or as soon as possible thereafter, of any unusual occurrence involving clients, staff or volunteers.
3. When an incident meets the threshold for a critical incident as per the Saskatchewan Critical Incident Reporting Guideline 2004, please refer to Policy 9.4.

GUIDELINES

1. Incidents should be reported on an Incident Report form.
2. Situations requiring the completion of an Incident Report form include:
 - a) accidents involving clients, staff, or volunteers;
 - b) unusual incidents where care staff are involved (e.g. adverse drug reactions, incorrect performance of procedures by staff affecting the care given to clients);
 - c) loss of, or damage to, personal belongings of clients, staff or volunteers;
 - d) damage to equipment or furniture as a result of an unusual circumstance; and,
 - e) medication errors (errors in the actual administration of the drug or errors of judgment).
3. Where there has been an accident involving a client, staff, or volunteer in the client's home, an Incident Report should be initiated at the time of the incident by the witness or staff member with primary involvement. Information contained in the Incident Report should:
 - a) be objective, clearly written and concise. The witness should report what she/he actually experienced (saw or heard) not what others have experienced (e.g. rather than report "client fell out of bed" report "client found on floor" unless client was actually observed falling out of bed;
 - b) give the reader a clear picture of the event. Use precise and descriptive language in recording observations (e.g. if the client fell out of bed, the witness should record such items as the location and position of the client on discovery, the location, size and color of any wound or bruise);

		Date of Issue: September 2006 Revised September 2015
Subject: Incident Reports and Investigation

- c) include observations of the client (e.g. colour, vital signs, level of consciousness, emotional state);
 - d) record any nursing actions taken at the time of the incident, the name of the physician notified and time, the physician's response to the notification, and time of his/her response; and,
 - e) relevant details of any action by the individual involved in the accident.
4. Where there has been a medication error:
- a) an Incident Report should be initiated as soon as the error is recognized;
 - b) information in the report should be factual. Documentation should include identification of the actual error as it occurred and as well as the action taken by the care provider once the error was recognized;
 - c) additional information that should be recorded in the incident report may include: the name of the physician notified, the time the physician was notified and the response of the physician notified; and,
 - d) the care provider involved in the incident should provide an explanation and a rationale as to why the incident occurred.
5. The filing of an Incident Report does not lessen the care provider's responsibility for recording the event on the nursing report and on the client care record.
6. The nursing notes should contain relevant clinical information so that those involved with the client's care will be aware of the incident, the medical and nursing action taken and the client's response to both the incident and the intervention.
7. The Regional Health Authority should ensure that there is a policy concerning the filing of Incident Reports.
8. Regular reviews and evaluations should be done to determine whether particular occurrences were preventable. The Incident Report should be thought of as one method of assessing the quality of care that is provided. Recommendations and follow-up action should be documented. All incidents should be investigated with the aim of developing recommendations to prevent the recurrence of similar incidents.

9.4 REPORTABLE CRITICAL INCIDENT REVIEW

POLICY

1. The Director of Community Services/Home Care Manager shall notify the Saskatchewan Ministry of Health as soon as possible of any critical incident that has affected clients, staff or volunteers. Verbal notification should be followed by a written report.
2. Refer to section 58 of The Regional Health Services Act for guidance regarding the steps to be taken when investigating and reporting a critical incident.

GUIDELINES

1. The intent of the policy is to inform the Saskatchewan Ministry of Health of the circumstances surrounding a critical incident.
2. Events or circumstances that should be considered reportable include:
 - a) any serious problem affecting clients;
 - b) an outbreak of infectious disease reportable to the local Medical Health Officer as per Communicable Disease Control Guidelines;
 - c) any client death which results in a coroner's inquest;
 - d) any serious incident, accident or injury to clients that are potentially disabling or life threatening;
 - e) any harm or suspected harm suffered by clients as a result of unlawful conduct, improper treatment or care, harassment or neglect (i.e. any incident of client abuse);
 - f) any incident which has been reported to law enforcement officers; and,
 - g) other incidents or events as determined by the management of home care.

9.5 RETENTION OF CLIENT RECORDS

POLICY

1. Records for an adult client must be kept for a minimum of six (6) years after the date that service is last provided.
2. Records for a child must be kept until the child reaches 18 years of age, plus two (2) years.

GUIDELINES

1. The suggested retention periods are minimums and intended only to be general guidelines.
2. In any particular case where litigation seems to be a possibility, all records relevant to the case should be maintained until it is clear that the difficulties have been resolved.
3. When in doubt about whether a particular document or record should be destroyed, the Regional Health Authority's solicitor should be consulted.

		Date of Issue: September 2006 Revised September 2015
Subject: Types of Care

10.1 TYPES OF CARE

POLICY

1. All home care programs within the Regional Health Authorities must provide acute care, end-of-life, rehabilitation, maintenance and long-term care to remain independent at home.

Community Care Home Care Policy	Section: Types of Care	Index Ref: 10.2 Page 1
		Date of Issue: September 2006 Revised September 2015
Subject: Acute Care

10.2 ACUTE CARE

POLICY

1. A client who needs immediate or urgent time limited (up to three (3) months or less) intervention to improve or stabilize a medical or post-surgical condition.
2. This category is designed to identify situations (other than palliative care) in which the home care program provides a service that might otherwise be provided in a hospital or health centre.

In many cases, the services will be provided to a person recently discharged from hospital. This may include persons with mental illness or mental health disorders.

3. Clients who are discharged early from hospital or who are receiving services to avoid/prevent re-admission and to avoid/prevent imminent admission (Policy 15.1.1 short term acute) will not be charged fees for personal care services (up to 14 days). (Policy 15.1)

GUIDELINES

1. A person in the acute care category will usually receive nursing/therapy services but may also receive support services (e.g. meals, home management).
2. The client's care plan will usually indicate a definite time frame of acute care.
3. Once the client has been stabilized and indefinite home care involvement is indicated, the category should be changed to a more appropriate type.
4. This category also includes situations in which the family is providing all or some of the nursing/personal care that might otherwise have to be provided in hospital, and where home care is providing other services (e.g. meals, home management, some nursing/personal care) to help the family cope during an acute episode.

10.3 LONG-TERM SUPPORTIVE CARE

POLICY

1. A client is at significant risk of institutionalization due to unstable, chronic health conditions, and/or living condition(s) and/or personal resources.
2. This is a category which applies when neither acute, rehabilitation, maintenance or palliative care apply. Clients may be considered to be “long term supportive care” when:
 - a) home care services are provided on an indefinite basis for the primary purpose of assisting clients to remain in the community (and/or to avoid admission to long-term care facilities);
 - b) home care services are providing respite to the clients’ supporters; or,
 - c) any other situation in which the type of care does not fall into either the acute, rehabilitation, maintenance or palliative care categories.

10.4 REHABILITATION

POLICY

1. This category applies to a client with a stable health condition that is expected to improve with a time-limited focus on goal-oriented, function rehabilitation. The rehabilitation plan specifies goals and expected duration of therapy.

10.6 PALLIATIVE CARE/END OF LIFE

In one's best clinical judgment, a client with any end-stage disease who is expected to live less than six months. Judgment should be substantiated by well-documented disease diagnosis and deteriorating clinical course.

DEFINITION

Palliative care refers to interdisciplinary services that provide active compassionate care to the client who is terminally ill at home, in hospital or in another care facility. It is a service made available to terminally ill persons and their supporters who have determined that treatment for cure or prolongation of life is no longer the primary goal.

POLICY

1. This category applies to clients who are dying and who have chosen to spend as much time as possible in their own homes. Clients may be considered "palliative" when:
 - a) their condition has been diagnosed by a physician as terminal with life expectancy of weeks or months;
 - b) active treatment to prolong life is no longer the goal of care; or,
 - c) the case management process in the Regional Health Authority has determined through assessment that the individual requires palliative care.

GUIDELINES

1. Key Elements of the Palliative Care Process include:
 - a) the individual's disease is not curable and the individual and/or family have been informed of this. This is a period when goals must be redefined and when it is appropriate to discontinue certain treatments. New symptoms may arise or existing symptoms worsen, necessitating modification of management or the initiation of new measures to ensure the comfort of the person;
 - b) the individual and/or family may have determined that palliative care will improve the quality of remaining life and that cure and prolongation of life may no longer be appropriate; and,
 - c) there are three (3) stages in the palliative process:
 - early;
 - intermediate; and,
 - end stage or dying stage.

Community Care Home Care Policy	Section: Types of Care	Index Ref: 10.6 Page 2
		Date of Issue: September 2006 Revised September 2015
Subject: Palliative Care/End Of Life

2. “Early” and “Intermediate” Stage Palliative Care – Individuals in the early and intermediate stage of the palliative process normally would be considered “stable”, where deterioration is proceeding at a slower pace, and minimal or occasional assistance is required due to terminal illness.

3. “End Stage” Palliative Care – The following parameters may be used to help determine whether terminally ill individuals are in the end stage of the palliative process and are dealing with end of life (dying) issues:
 - a) the time frame for the end stage may be measured in terms of days or weeks of dying. Time frames are difficult to determine, however, and in some cases, this end stage may be longer than a few weeks or as short as one (1) or two (2) days;
 - b) there are typically day-to-day changes with deterioration proceeding at a dramatic pace. There may also be a sudden drop in the Palliative Performance Rating according to the Palliative Performance Scale developed by the Victoria Hospice Society and the Capital Region Home Nursing Care in British Columbia;
 - c) end stage may be characterized by:
 - increasing intensity of need;
 - increasing assistance required for physical and psychological need and family exhaustion; and/or,
 - a requirement for social work, pastoral care, and therapies (e.g. pet and music).
 - d) there is documented clinical progression of disease, which may include a combination of the following symptoms:
 - dyspnea;
 - increased pain (crescendo pain);
 - increased nausea;
 - profound weakness;
 - being essentially bed bound;
 - drowsy for extended periods;
 - disorientation as to time;
 - severely limited attention span;
 - increasing disinterest in food and fluid;
 - difficulty swallowing medication;
 - dependence in activities of daily living (bathing, dressing, feeding, transfers, continence of urine and stool, ability to ambulate independently to bathroom);
 - social withdrawal;
 - restlessness;
 - ascites;
 - lymphedema; and,
 - anxiety.

- e) the end stage terminally ill individual is assessed and given a Palliative Performance Rating of 30% or lower according to the Palliative Performance Scale developed by the Victoria Hospice Society and the Capital Region Home Nursing Care in British Columbia.¹

Instructions for Use of PPS (see also definition of terms)

1. PPS scores are determined by reading horizontally at each level to find a 'best fit' for the patient which is then assigned as the PPS% score.
2. Begin at the left column and read downwards until the appropriate ambulation level is reached, then read across to the next column and downwards again until the activity/evidence of disease is located. These steps are repeated until all five columns are covered before assigning the actual PPS for that patient. In this way, 'leftward' columns (columns to the left of any specific column) are 'stronger' determinants and generally take precedence over others.

Example 1: A patient who spends the majority of the day sitting or lying down due to fatigue from advanced disease and requires considerable assistance to walk even for short distances but who is otherwise fully conscious level with good intake would be scored at PPS 50%.

Example 2: A patient who has become paralyzed and quadriplegic requiring total care would be PPS 30%. Although this patient may be placed in a wheelchair (and perhaps seem initially to be at 50%), the score is 30% because he or she would be otherwise totally bed bound due to the disease or complication if it were not for caregivers providing total care including lift/transfer. The patient may have normal intake and full conscious level.

Example 3: However, if the patient in example 2 was paraplegic and bed bound but still able to do some self-care such as feed themselves, then the PPS would be higher at 40 or 50% since he or she is not 'total care.'

3. PPS scores are in 10% increments only. Sometimes, there are several columns easily placed at one level but one or two which seem better at a higher or lower level. One then needs to make a 'best fit' decision. Choosing a 'half-fit' value of PPS 45%, for example, is not correct. The combination of clinical judgment and 'leftward precedence' is used to determine whether 40% or 50% is the more accurate score for that patient.
4. PPS may be used for several purposes. First, it is an excellent communication tool for quickly describing a patient's current functional level. Second, it may have value in criteria for workload assessment or other measurements and comparisons. Finally, it appears to have prognostic value.

Definition of Terms for PPS

As noted below, some of the terms have similar meanings with the differences being more readily apparent as one reads horizontally across each row to find an overall 'best fit' using all five columns.

1. Ambulation

The items 'mainly sit/lie,' 'mainly in bed,' and 'totally bed bound' are clearly similar. The subtle differences are related to items in the self-care column. For example, 'totally bed bound' at PPS 30% is due to either profound weakness or paralysis such that the patient not only can't get out of bed but is also unable to do any self-care. The difference between 'sit/lie' and 'bed' is proportionate to the amount of time the patient is able to sit up vs need to lie down.

'Reduced ambulation' is located at the PPS 70% and PPS 60% level. By using the adjacent column, the reduction of ambulation is tied to inability to carry out their normal job, work occupation or some hobbies or housework activities. The person is still able to walk and transfer on their own but at PPS 60% needs occasional assistance.

2. Activity and Extent of Disease

'Some,' 'significant,' and 'extensive' disease refer to physical and investigative evidence which shows degrees of progression. For example in breast cancer, a local recurrence would imply 'some' disease, one or two metastases in the lung or bone would imply 'significant' disease, whereas multiple metastases in lung, bone, liver, brain, hypercalcemia or other major complications would be 'extensive' disease. The extent may also refer to progression of disease despite active treatments. Using PPS in AIDS, 'some' may mean the shift from HIV to AIDS, 'significant' implies progression in physical decline, new or difficult symptoms and laboratory findings with low counts. 'Extensive' refers to one or more serious complications with or without continuation of active antiretrovirals, antibiotics, etc.

The above extent of disease is also judged in context with the ability to maintain one's work and hobbies or activities. Decline in activity may mean the person still plays golf but reduces from playing 18 holes to 9 holes, or just a par 3, or to backyard putting. People who enjoy walking will gradually reduce the distance covered, although they may continue trying, sometimes even close to death (eg. trying to walk the halls).

3. Self-Care

'Occasional assistance' means that most of the time patients are able to transfer out of bed, walk, wash, toilet and eat by their own means, but that on occasion (perhaps once daily or a few times weekly) they require minor assistance.

'Considerable assistance' means that regularly every day the patient needs help, usually by one person, to do some of the activities noted above. For example, the person needs help to get to the bathroom but is then able to brush his or her teeth or wash at least hands and face. Food will often need to be cut into edible sizes but the patient is then able to eat of his or her own accord.

'Mainly assistance' is a further extension of 'considerable.' Using the above example, the patient now needs help getting up but also needs assistance washing his face and shaving, but can usually eat with minimal or no help. This may fluctuate according to fatigue during the day.

Community Care Home Care Policy	Section: Types of Care	Index Ref: 10.7 Page 4
		Date of Issue: September 2006 Revised September 2015
Subject: References

'Total care' means that the patient is completely unable to eat without help, toilet or do any self-care. Depending on the clinical situation, the patient may or may not be able to chew and swallow food once prepared and fed to him or her.

4. Intake

Changes in intake are quite obvious with 'normal intake' referring to the person's usual eating habits while healthy. 'Reduced' means any reduction from that and is highly variable according to the unique individual circumstances. 'Minimal' refers to very small amounts, usually pureed or liquid, which are well below nutritional sustenance.

5. Conscious Level

'Full consciousness' implies full alertness and orientation with good cognitive abilities in various domains of thinking, memory, etc. 'Confusion' is used to denote presence of either delirium or dementia and is a reduced level of consciousness. It may be mild, moderate or severe with multiple possible etiologies. 'Drowsiness' implies either fatigue, drug side effects, delirium or closeness to death and is sometimes included in the term stupor. 'Coma' in this context is the absence of response to verbal or physical stimuli; some reflexes may or may not remain. The depth of coma may fluctuate throughout a 24 hour period.

11.2 PRIMARY HOME CARE SERVICES

DEFINITION

Primary home care services are services for which funding is authorized by the Saskatchewan Ministry of Health.

POLICY

1. Every Regional Health Authority must offer the primary home care services.

2. Primary home care services include:
 - a) assessment;
 - b) case management and care coordination;
 - c) nursing;
 - d) homemaking that includes personal care, respite and home management; and,
 - e) meal service.

3. Primary home care services are provided through paid personnel.

11.2.3 NURSING SERVICES

POLICY

1. Home Care nursing services includes:
 - a) teaching and supervising self-care to clients receiving personal care or nursing services;
 - b) teaching personal care and nursing procedures to family members and other supporters;
 - c) performing nursing assessments;
 - d) performing nursing treatments and procedures as outlined in a home care nursing textbook approved by Community Care Branch;
 - e) providing personal care when the assessment process specifies that it is warranted by the condition of the client;
 - f) teaching and supervising home care aides/continuing care assistants providing personal care and performing delegated nursing tasks; and,
 - g) initiating referrals to other health professionals and agencies.

GUIDELINES

1. Home Care nursing services are performed using evidence-based best practice.¹

1 – “Evidence Informed/Evidence-Based Practice” – Practice which is based on successful strategies that improve client outcomes and are derived from a combination of various sources of evidence, including client perspective, research, national guidelines, policies, consensus statements, expert opinion and quality improvement data (CHSRF, 2005). 11.2.4 HOMEMAKING SERVICES

POLICY

1. Homemaking Services have three components:
 - a) personal care;
 - b) respite; and,
 - c) home management.

2. Homemaking services are provided by Home Care Aides/Continuing Care Assistants.

Policy for the Delegation, Supervision and Evaluation of Tasks to Home Care Aides:

1. A practicing member of the Saskatchewan Registered Nurses Association, the Registered Psychiatric Nurses Association of Saskatchewan, or the Saskatchewan Association of Licensed Practical Nurses must teach, evaluate and supervise the performance of Home Care Aides when tasks are delegated in providing:
 - a) personal care;
 - b) activities of daily living for persons who cannot safely be left on their own due to confusion, frailty or some other functional disability;
 - c) specific assistance to a client when the informal care provider is present. In order to evaluate this situation the informal care provider must be prepared to assist the person as necessary; and,
 - d) activities of daily living when the home care aide/continuing care assistant is providing respite for family members or other primary caregivers.

GUIDELINES

Personal Care Component

1. Personal care component may include:
 - a) assisting with/or supervising activities of daily living, such as bathing, grooming, dressing, medication assists, feeding, toileting and transferring;

Respite Component

1. Respite is any combination of services provided specifically for the purpose of giving relief to the family or other caregivers of a dependent person who lives at home.
2. Objectives of respite care are to:
 - a) relieve primary caregivers from the constant responsibility of providing care;
 - b) give primary caregivers the security of knowing that temporary relief is available if a personal crisis arises, and provide that relief if necessary;
 - c) support and strengthen families or other support systems to enable dependent persons to remain at home; and,
 - d) delay or prevent placement of dependent persons in long-term care facilities.
3. In home care, respite may mean providing relief for time periods ranging from a few hours to a few days. Time periods will depend on the needs of families and other caregivers in addition to regional resources and other options available for respite.
4. Respite may be provided occasionally, or periodically on a regular basis, to allow primary caregivers time to perform everyday tasks. Respite does not usually include home care services provided to allow caregivers to work at a long-term job. Respite is not normally provided to relieve parents from routine childcare; however, the region may make exceptions for complex care children when no other resources are available to the family.
5. Home care may provide crisis relief to allow the primary caregivers, and their families, the opportunity to deal with stressful events such as an illness, hospitalization or a death in the family.
6. An assessment determines if respite is needed to relieve caregivers, and a care plan is developed to meet that objective. The content of the respite care plan will depend on the needs of the dependent person and their supporters. At a minimum, the care plan will include supervision of activities of daily living, but may also include other aspects of personal care, a meal or home management. The care provider in a respite situation is temporarily taking the place of the primary caregiver and must provide whatever assistance the dependent person needs.

Home Management Component

1. Home management may include:
 - a) general household cleaning;
 - b) menu planning;
 - c) meal preparation;
 - d) laundry;
 - e) changing linen;
 - f) teaching self care; and,
 - g) other aspects of operating a household as determined by the assessment process.

2. Additional home management components for Mamawetan Churchill River and Keewatin Yatthé Regional Health Authorities, and the Athabasca Health Authority may include:
 - a) providing transportation;
 - b) escorting clients for medical appointments, grocery shopping, etc.;
 - c) interpreting for clients and other health staff;
 - d) assisting clients in attending community events scheduled by the home care program, (i.e. friendship days, elders lunch, etc.); and/or,
 - e) home maintenance tasks specific to northern residents.

11.2.5 MEAL SERVICE – Meals-on-Wheels and Wheels-to-Meals

POLICY

1. Meal service is provided to improve and/or maintain the nutritional status and general health of clients.
2. Every effort must be made to assist clients to become as self-reliant as possible in meal preparation.
3. The home care meal service includes:
 - a) meals-on-wheels, in which meals are delivered from an institution, restaurant or private meal provider to clients at home; and/or,
 - b) wheels-to-meals, in which meals are prepared and provided to clients at a central location where a meal is served. (e.g., Senior Citizens' Activity Centre). The local Public Health Inspector should be informed.
4. Volunteers should deliver meals whenever possible.

GUIDELINES

1. Guiding Principles for the Provision of Meal Services:
 - a) meal service should be provided to maintain the client's health and independence;
 - b) meal service should support self-reliance in meal preparation and good nutrition;
 - c) meals should be provided until the clients' strengths, abilities and/or motivation enable them to become self-reliant;
 - d) meals may be part of a respite component when the primary caregiver is not available; and,
 - e) clients or their supporter should be taught to prepare meals independently.
2. Source of Meals:
The Regional Health Authority may contract the preparation of home care meals to:
 - a) an affiliate as defined in The Regional Health Authority Act;
 - b) any public eating establishment licensed by the Regional Health Authority, pursuant to the Technical Guideline #154 administered by the Regional Health Authority; and,
 - c) a private meal provider when no other option is available.

Canada's Food Guide to Healthy Eating should be followed.

Subject: Meal Service

Meals-on-wheels is not required to include a serving from the Grain Products group or the Milk Products group. It is anticipated that the client will be able to supply these items to complete the meal.

Wheels-to-meals; however, must provide servings from each of the four (4) food groups (Meat & Alternates, Vegetables & Fruit, Grain Products, and Milk Products).

3. Content of the Meal:

The meal should provide the following to ensure it is acceptable to the client:

- a) variety in food selection and preparation;
- b) variety in taste and appearance;
- c) consideration of the client's special needs, such as therapeutic diets, dental soft foods, foods in bite size pieces, food allergies and food intolerances;
- d) consideration of the client's background, including ethnic food preferences, religious, and cultural food preferences; and,
- e) consideration of foods suitable for the client; for example pizza, although nutritious, may not be an appropriate choice for some elderly people.

4. Menu Planning:

The Regional Health Authority dietitian should provide advice about menu planning.

5. Therapeutic Diets:

Therapeutic diets must be provided as directed by the client's physician in consultation with a dietitian (Physician's Instruction Form H31-7010).

The decision to determine whether a specific meal provider has the capacity to prepare therapeutic diets rests with the consulting dietitian. If the meal provider lacks the capacity to prepare a particular therapeutic diet other options to allow for the provision of meals to this client must be explored.

The following therapeutic diet meals, prepared in accordance with the most recent Manual of Clinical Dietetics, may be provided without the supervision of a dietitian on site:

- a) diabetic;
- b) modified in sodium (salt) content;
- c) modified in fat content;
- d) bland;
- e) weight reducing; and,
- f) modified in fiber content.

Community Care Home Care Policy	Section:	Index Ref: 11.2.5	Page 3
	Home Care Services	Date of Issue: September 2006 Revised September 2015
Subject: Meal Service

A dietitian or physician must provide written diet instructions to the meal provider for all therapeutic diets.

It is advisable that clients on therapeutic diets be given diet counseling and written information by a dietitian, nutritionist or physician prior to acceptance to the meal service program.

If the client does not understand the diet, the case manager should refer the client to the home care nurse or community dietitian for appropriate instruction.

6. Packaging of Food Items for Each Meal:
Only disposable containers appropriate for hot foods should be used to package hot food items. The following materials are recommended:
- a) disposable aluminum plates covered with aluminum foil or foil-backed cardboard lids;
 - b) disposable Styrofoam cups, plates and/or bowls covered with plastic or Styrofoam lids; and/or,
 - c) disposable plastic cups and/or bowls covered with plastic lids.

Only disposable containers appropriate for cold foods shall be used to package cold food items. The following materials are recommended:

- a) disposable Styrofoam plates, bowls, or cups covered with Styrofoam or plastic lids;
- b) disposable plastic plates, bowls or cups covered with plastic lids;
- c) disposable plastic-coated paper plates, cups or bowls covered with aluminum foil; and,
- d) plastic wrap or paper envelopes (for breadstuffs, if served).

DISPOSABLE MATERIALS SHALL BE USED ONLY ONCE

Hot and cold foods must be kept separate.

Food shall be served into the disposable containers just prior to meal delivery unless the containers can be promptly refrigerated and/or heated until delivery.

Prepared foods must be held at a temperature less than 4°C (40°F) or greater than 60°C (140°F) in order to limit the risk of bacterial growth that can lead to food poisoning.

Community Care Home Care Policy	Section:	Index Ref: 11.2.5	Page 4
	Home Care Services	Date of Issue: September 2006 Revised September 2015
Subject: Meal Service

- 7. Packaging the Meals for Delivery:
Meals must be packed in insulated carrying cases which adequately retain the temperature of the food.

- 8. Transportation of the Meal:
Meals should be transported by a volunteer whenever it is practical to do so.

Transportation time must be kept to a minimum in order to limit the growth of bacteria that can occur if food is held at temperatures between 4°C (40°F) – 60°C (140°F).

- 9. Private Meal Service Provider:
 - a) Safe Food Service
Since individual meal service providers are not formally regulated to the same extent as institutions and restaurants, the following will provide guidance for the preparation of safe food by individual meal service providers:
 - all food and drink used in the preparation of meals shall be clean, safe, and free from spoilage and prepared for safe human consumption;
 - all precautions shall be taken to ensure food remains free from contamination and spoilage during its preparation, storage and delivery;
 - milk products served or used in food preparation must have been processed in an approved pasteurization plant;
 - shell eggs must be clean and free from cracks and odors;
 - all food and drink must be obtained from sources approved by a Medical Health Officer or Public Health Inspector;
 - the use of home-canned food is prohibited because of the possible risk of botulism food poisoning from consumption of inadequately or improperly canned food; and
 - No wild game shall be served.²

² Exception to be made to the Northern Home Care Services. The reason for an amendment is based upon the cultural backgrounds of the people; the consideration of financial costs associated with the transportation of goods into the isolated regions and that wild game is a staple diet for many of the inhabitants in Mamawetan Churchill River and Keewatin Yatthé Region, and Athabasca Health Authority. Wild game is to be processed in accordance with the guidelines set out by the Saskatchewan Ministry of Health and the Federal Government food safety regulations.

Subject: Meal Service

Water safe for human consumption shall be used in the preparation of food or drink:

- water softened by the sodium ion exchange process shall not be used in the preparation of food or drink for clients requiring restricted sodium diets;
- water from sources not subject to routine bacteriological examination must be tested as required by the Medical Health Officer or Public Health Inspector or as often as necessary to ensure safety and be of a quality compatible with provincial standards³;
- the meal provider must have a new or temporary water supply tested and approved before it is used; and,
- containers or receptacles in which water is stored must be clean and covered. A person shall draw the water from the container by means of a tap or other approved dispensing service.

b) Environment

- floors, walls, and ceilings of all rooms in which food or drink is stored or prepared, or in which utensils are washed, must be clean and in good repair.
- floors must not be swept when food or drink is exposed.
- the premises must be free of any animal or insect detrimental to the operation of a food service. This includes rats, mice, cockroaches, flies and other vermin.
- the local Public Health Inspector must approve all material and equipment used for vermin control.
- pets or birds must not be kept or permitted in food storage or preparation areas unless approved by the Medical Health Officer or Public Health Inspector.
- all garbage must be placed in a covered, nonabsorbent, leak proof container and be disposed of as necessary. Garbage must not remain in a food preparation or storage area in excess of twenty-four (24) hours.

³ Samples for bacteriological examination are to be placed in containers available from the local regional health office. The Saskatchewan Ministry of Health Provincial Laboratories will provide the required bacteriological examination.

c) Cleaning Supplies

Toxic and poisonous substances, including cleaning supplies, must be:

- kept in an area separate from food, food equipment, and food contact surfaces;
- kept in containers that bear a label on which the contents of the container are clearly identified; and,
- used only in such conditions that the substances do not contaminate food or endanger the health of any person.

d) Equipment

The equipment necessary to prepare and store all food must be available (e.g. freezer, refrigerator, stove, accurate thermometers, etc.)

All equipment, utensils, and food contact surfaces which may come in contact with food or drink during storage, preparation or delivery (serving) must be:

- clean;
- kept in good repair;
- corrosion resistant;
- washed and sanitized as required if of a reusable type; and,
- constructed of an approved material.

All equipment and utensils, including single service utensils for meal delivery, must be handled and stored so that surfaces coming in contact with the food or the user's mouth have not been contaminated.

Cups, glasses or dishes that are chipped or cracked must not be used in the preparation, service or storage of food.

e) Storage

All food must be protected by means of enclosed cases or cabinets or other enclosure and must be stored in such a manner that odors and flavors are not transferred from one type of food to another.

Food must not be stored on the floor. Food shall be stored in an appropriate container and placed on a pallet or shelf.

f) Food Handling

Potentially hazardous food that is being stored prior to preparation or held prior to delivery for human consumption, must be kept at either:

- 4°C (40°F) or less; or,
- 60°C (140°F) or greater, which ever is appropriate depending on the food.

Potentially hazardous food means any raw or prepared food that consists, in whole or in part, of milk or milk products, eggs, meat, poultry, fish, shellfish, or edible crustacea, in a form capable of supporting rapid and progressive growth of infectious or toxigenic microorganisms.

When it is necessary for potentially hazardous food to remain at temperatures between 4°C and 60°C (40°F and 140°F) it must be for as short a time as possible but never longer than two hours after preparation.

Food should be tasted for acceptability before it is served. Sampling of food with fingers is not permitted. Using the same spoon more than once for tasting is not permitted because of the potential danger of food contamination.

A sanitized thermometer should be used frequently to indicate temperature of food prior to service. Temperature of food should be checked periodically by the Regional Health Authority at delivery.

Potentially hazardous foods shall be cooked to the appropriate minimum internal temperature described in the following chart:

Hazardous Food	Internal Temperature
	°C	°F
Poultry	74	165
Ground Beef	71	160
Beef, lamb, pork, and veal	71	160
Boiled Eggs (Boil for 9 minutes minimum)	80	178
Fish (flesh is opaque, flakes easily)	71	160
Alternatives for cooking Fish	70	158 - at least 2 minutes
	65	150 - 10 minutes
	80	176 - a few seconds

- g) Cleaning and Sanitizing
Both a detergent and a sanitizer must be used to accomplish a thorough cleaning of utensils, equipment, and work areas. A detergent is a chemical substance used to facilitate cleaning through removal of all visible, physical debris. A sanitizer is a heat or chemical method used to destroy all disease-causing bacteria.

In summary, detergents first help remove physical debris, then sanitizers kill the remaining micro-organisms.

All utensils, equipment and work areas are to be thoroughly cleaned and sanitized after each use. An ample supply of hot and cold water for washing and sanitizing utensils, equipment and tableware must be available.

All utensils and equipment used for food preparation must be cleansed by the three-step method:⁴

- Washed with an effective detergent where the wash water temperature is not lower than 44°C (111°F);
- Rinsed in clean water at a temperature not lower than 44°C (111°F);
- Sanitized using one of the following bactericidal treatments:
 - use of the “saniwash” or “sanitize” feature on a household dishwasher as approved by the Regional Health Authority;
 - immersion for at least two minutes in clean water at a temperature of at least 82°C (180°F) (a suitable thermometer must be provided);
 - immersion for at least two minutes in a lukewarm chlorine solution of not less than one hundred parts per million available chlorine when freshly prepared and not less than fifty parts per million at any time;⁵ or,
 - immersion for at least two minutes in a lukewarm solution containing a quaternary ammonium compound having a strength of at least two hundred parts per million.
- Air dried to prevent recontamination through use of drying towels.⁶

Cutting boards, chopping blocks, table grinders, slicers and other utensils must be thoroughly cleaned and sanitized after each use.

⁴ The three-step method consists of wash, rinse and sanitize and requires a three compartment sink (a dishpan may be utilized as the third sink in some situations)

⁵ Facilities (test kit) for determining the concentration of the sanitizing solution shall be available.

⁶ Cloths and towels used for washing, drying, polishing utensils, equipment, tables or counters must be clean and used for one purpose only.

- h) Personnel
Every individual meal provider shall practice good personal hygiene.

Every person who handles or comes in contact with food or any utensil used in the preparation or service of food must:

- be clean;
- wear clean garments;
- keep hair confined; and,
- wash hands before commencing work, after use of toilet facilities, after smoking or any other time hands are soiled or contaminated.

Meal providers must not smoke while preparing food.

A meal provider with a communicable disease shall not prepare food when the meal provider's condition may jeopardize the safety of the food being prepared. A meal provider shall not prepare or serve food when experiencing any of the following symptoms:

- diarrhea;
- vomiting;
- fever; or,
- severe abdominal discomfort.

A meal provider must wear disposable gloves when preparing food if she/he has a cut or opening on the hand. If the cut is infected, the meal provider must not be involved in food preparation.

The home care program does not require meal providers to have a medical examination as a condition of employment. However, the Medical Health Officer or management may, at any time, order a medical examination if circumstances warrant.

Meals from a meal-providing household must be discontinued if there is a risk of spreading an illness in the household to meal recipients.

Whenever a meal provider is aware of a situation where a communicable disease may be transmitted to a meal recipient, the meal provider shall notify the Medical Health Officer or a Public Health Inspector.

11.3 ADDITIONAL HOME CARE SERVICES

POLICY

Additional home care services may include:

1. home maintenance;
2. volunteer programs;
3. therapies when available i.e. physiotherapy and occupational therapy; and,
4. any other service that the Regional Health Authority deems appropriate.

GUIDELINES

1. Procedure for approval of additional home care services.

A regional home care program wishing to provide services in addition to those indicated in 11.2, should seek specific approval from the Regional Health Authority senior management. The approval for proposed services beyond the primary services will be reviewed on an individual basis considering traditional service patterns, assessed need and availability of resources and cost.

	Home Care Services	Date of Issue: September 2006 Revised September 2015
Subject: Home Maintenance Services

11.3.1 HOME MAINTENANCE SERVICE

POLICY

1. Home maintenance services are provided only when the safety of the individual is at risk, the individual's physical abilities are less than optimal and no reasonable alternative is available.
2. Home care does not provide home maintenance services when the same or similar services are available from another source.
3. Home care is not responsible for the costs of any materials or supplies needed to perform a home maintenance service.
4. Home maintenance may be provided by a volunteer program service if volunteers are available.
5. If Regional Health Authorities do not provide home maintenance services, care managers should attempt to refer the client to an agency that can provide the services.

GUIDELINES

1. Home maintenance service may include:
 - a) performing minor outdoor tasks essential for the safety of clients;
 - b) performing minor home maintenance repairs essential for the safety of client;
 - c) installing and maintaining equipment aids for independent living; and,
 - d) installing handrails and non-skid surfaces.
2. Home Maintenance services in the North⁷ may also include:
 - a) splitting and hauling wood into the client's home;
 - b) hauling water into the client's home, as required;
 - c) transporting clients' for appointments, grocery shopping, berry picking, monthly home care events; and/or,
 - d) deliveries related to the home care program.

11.3.2 VOLUNTEER SERVICE

POLICY

1. The Regional Health Authority promotes the participation of volunteers.
2. The Regional Health Authority must ensure that policies are in place to address responsibility for coordination of volunteer activities, their orientation, training and supervision.

GUIDELINES

1. A Regional Health Authority may organize and provide any volunteer service consistent with the home care philosophy and objectives provided that:
 - a) the Regional Health Authority's role is limited to administrative support; and,
 - b) the administration of volunteer services does not detract from the management of the primary services.
2. Every Regional Health Authority should define clearly what services are to be provided by volunteers.
3. Volunteer services provided by Regional Health Authorities to home care clients may include:
 - a) surveillance;
 - b) delivering meals;
 - c) friendly visiting;
 - d) attendant service;
 - e) errands and shopping;
 - f) transportation; and,
 - g) home maintenance services.
4. Services classed as volunteer service may be provided by paid personnel if volunteers are unavailable and:
 - a) provision of a primary service is dependent upon the volunteer service (e.g. delivery of meals);
 - b) the volunteer service is judged to be essential for the client's wellbeing on the basis of the assessment process (e.g. supervising a client who cannot be left alone); or,
 - c) when the provision of the service by paid personnel does not result in an incremental cost to the program (e.g. surveillance by salaried staff).

5. Regional Health Authorities may provide a stipend for volunteers or provide volunteers with a charitable tax receipt to offset transportation costs.

6. Surveillance by Volunteers
 - a) Every Regional Health Authority should ensure that surveillance services are available to residents of the region, though it may not be necessary for the Regional Health Authority to organize and provide surveillance directly.
 - b) Regional Health Authorities should attempt to preserve existing informal surveillance arrangements and volunteer services whenever possible.
 - c) A Regional Health Authority may provide surveillance to any person, regardless of whether or not that person is receiving other home care services.
 - d) Surveillance should be delivered in combination with other services received by the client whenever possible (e.g. meal deliverers can also perform a surveillance function).

11.3.3 THERAPY SERVICES

POLICY

1. Therapy services support the overall goal of home care services by assisting individuals to achieve or maintain maximum independence in their home in the community.
2. Therapy services are consistent with current effective practice guidelines.

GUIDELINES

1. Therapy services include occupational therapy, physical therapy, respiratory therapy, dietetics and speech language pathology services and may be provided by home care directly or provided through other programs in the Regional Health Authority.
2. Therapy services may include initial and ongoing client assessment, intervention, consultation, recommendation of equipment/adaptive aids, acquisition and training of these aids, health promotion, and education.
3. Therapists may delegate appropriate duties to support personnel and other members of the team; however, therapists retain responsibility for assessment, treatment planning and review, and discontinuation of therapy services.
4. Client records shall be maintained as per home care standards.

12.1 ASSESSOR/CASE MANAGER/CARE COORDINATOR

POLICY

1. The Regional Health Authority shall ensure that appropriate management staff is in place who are responsible for selecting and arranging appropriate supervision of assessors, case managers and care coordinators.
2. The minimum qualifications for assessment and care coordination staff hired after September 1, 1988 are:
 - a) a degree or diploma in health services, social services, education or a related area; or,
 - b) several years experience in assessment and care coordination in a home care program, with significant training in assessment and interviewing techniques.

GUIDELINES

1. The Regional Health Authority may hire a person with less than the minimum qualifications for assessments if it is unable to find an appropriate person with those qualifications. In this case, the Regional Health Authority must assess the individual's knowledge and skills, and specify any in-service training required prior to providing service.

12.2 NURSING SERVICE PROVIDERS

POLICY

1. Home care (Professional) nursing services shall be provided by:
 - a) RNs registered as practicing members of the Saskatchewan Registered Nurses' Association (SRNA);
 - b) RPNs registered as practicing members of the Registered Psychiatric Nurses Association of Saskatchewan (RPNAS); or,
 - c) LPNs registered as practicing members with the Saskatchewan Association of Licensed Practical Nurses (SALPN).

GUIDELINES¹

1. RNs, RPNs and LPNs provide care directed first and foremost toward the health and well being of the client. Nurses work collaboratively and cooperatively with clients, families, each other, and other care providers in order to provide safe, quality care that maximizes benefits to the client.
2. RNs, RPNs and LPNs act in a manner consistent with their professional responsibilities, ethical and legal guidelines and standards of practice.
3. The regulatory bodies (SRNA, RPNAS and SALPN) have the legislated responsibility to articulate scopes of practice for their respective members, to establish practice and ethical standards and to review respective members who do not meet the standards.
4. RNs, RPNs and LPNs, practice within their own individual level of competence. They may seek additional information and/or the guidance of an experienced nurse when aspects of the care required are beyond their current skill level or competence.
5. RNs, RPNs and LPNs must recognize that within the nursing team there are areas of shared competencies and overlapping roles, and that scopes of practice evolve over time in response to changing health care needs. In some care situations, several team members may possess the necessary knowledge, skills and judgment to provide specific nursing care. In other situations the knowledge, skills and judgment required may be unique to one team member.

Personal Care and Respite

POLICY

1. Personal care and respite is provided by home care aides/continuing care assistants who have successfully completed the personal care course, and have completed or are in the process of completing the other courses of a training program approved by the Saskatchewan Ministry of Health.
2. All home care aides/continuing care assistants must complete a training program approved by the Saskatchewan Ministry of Health within two years of initial employment.
3. Employers must ensure that home care aides/continuing care assistants who have not completed the training have the skills to perform the tasks.
4. Persons who have successfully completed a program as a registered nurse, a registered psychiatric nurse or a licensed practical nurse may be hired as a home care aide/continuing care assistant without the need to complete the approved training program, unless the employer deems it appropriate.
5. The Regional Health Authority is responsible for ensuring all staff have the training and skills to do the work, and work within the parameters of the continuing care assistant scope of practice and job description.

Home Management

POLICY

1. Home management services are provided by home care aides/continuing care assistants who have completed, or are in the process of completing a training program approved by the Saskatchewan Ministry of Health.
2. All home care aides/continuing care assistants must complete a training program approved by the Saskatchewan Ministry of Health within two years of initial employment.

1. Restaurants and institutional providers must prepare meals in accordance with Policy 11.2.5 Meal Service guidelines and Policy 16.4 Meal Service standards of the Saskatchewan Ministry of Health Home Care Policy Manual.

GUIDELINES

1. The Regional Health Authority may contract the preparation of home care meals to:
 - a) an affiliate as defined in The Regional Health Authority Act; or,
 - b) any public eating establishment licensed by the Regional Health Authority, pursuant to the Technical Guideline #154 administered by the Regional Health Authority.²

12.4.1 PRIVATE MEAL SERVICE PROVIDERS

POLICY

1. If the Regional Health Authority contracts with individuals, the Regional Health Authority must ensure the individual meal provider has:
 - a) completed, or agree to complete by the earliest possible date as determined by the board, the food safe course of a continuing care assistant training program approved by the Saskatchewan Ministry of Health; or,
 - b) successfully completed the public health Sanitation Training Program for Food Handlers or the Food Safe food handler's course.
2. Individual meal providers must prepare meals in accordance with Meal Service Policy and Guidelines 11.2.5 and Policy 16.4 Meal Service standards of the Saskatchewan Ministry of Health Home Care Policy Manual.

GUIDELINES

1. Individual meal providers who believe they have the required knowledge and skills or have previous formal training may challenge the food safe and/or nutrition course(s) of an approved continuing care assistant training program. The Individual meal providers will not be required to complete the course(s) that have been successfully challenged.
2. A contract with an individual meal provider should contain the same basic elements as a contract with an agency. However, a contract with an individual meal provider involves only one service provider and a relatively small amount of service. This difference in scale has some implications:
 - a) some specific contract requirements, such as the requirement for an annual audited financial statement, do not apply to contracts with individual meal providers;
 - b) verbal contracts are acceptable with existing individual meal providers. All new individual meal providers should sign a written contract (a written contract is preferred because it confirms the agreement and helps to prevent misunderstandings); and,
 - c) a written contract may be in the form of a letter, if signed and returned by the individual meal provider.

12.6 VOLUNTEERS

POLICY

1. Volunteers may perform the volunteer services designated by the Regional Health Authority under the “Definition of Volunteer Services” (Policy 11.3.2).
2. The Regional Health Authority must ensure that adequate supervision is provided for volunteers (Policy 11.3.2).

GUIDELINES

1. Regional Health Authorities may require volunteers to take specific instructions or on-the-job training which, in the judgment of the senior staff member responsible for volunteer services, is appropriate.
2. Volunteers may perform administrative or other tasks as deemed appropriate.

12.8 FAMILY CARE PROVIDERS

POLICY

1. Regional Health Authorities may not compensate a family care provider for assisting a member of his/her family unless both of the following circumstances apply:
 - a) no practical alternative exists (e.g. a remote rural area with no resident home care providers in reasonable proximity); and,
 - b) the care provider holds the qualifications and training required of a home care provider.

GUIDELINES

1. The general intent of the policy on payment to family members is that family members should not be compensated by home care for caring for a family member. However, the policy allows Regional Health Authorities some discretion to enable them to cope with exceptional situations.
2. Regional Health Authorities may choose to define guidelines that reflect the characteristics of the region and types of problems faced by the Regional Health Authority staff. These guidelines should assist staff to come to practical decisions when assessing particular cases. For example, a Regional Health Authority might specify that no exceptions will be made if:
 - a) the care provider is a member of the nuclear family (the client's parents, children and siblings);
 - b) the care provider lives with the client;
 - c) the care provider has given care in the past without receiving payment; or,
 - d) the care provider is not willing to serve other home care clients in addition to their family member.

12.9 VOLUNTEERS

POLICY

1. The Regional Health Authorities will determine how a volunteer program achieves the purpose and mission of the regional health authority.

Subject: Individualized Funding

13.1 INDIVIDUALIZED FUNDING

POLICY

1. Regional Health Authorities shall offer Individualized Funding (IF) as an option of the home care program.

Individualized Funding allows the consumer, or their guardian, to accept responsibility to manage and direct supportive service.

The Regional Health Authority is authorized to provide funding to an individual to arrange and manage his/her own supportive care services. The level of funding is based on assessed need and used for approved services only. These services may include personal care, home management and other supportive services.

The Regional Health Authority shall inform the Saskatchewan Ministry of Health of new clients and discontinuance of clients to the IF program (See Appendix A and B).

2. To be Eligible for Individualized Funding, the Consumer:
 - a) meets the eligibility requirements to receive home care supportive services;
 - b) requires long term supportive services for at least 6 – 12 months;
 - c) has relatively stable supportive service needs;
 - d) has indicated the desire and ability to manage the required care and the willingness to assume the responsibilities and risks associated with Individualized Funding, or has a guardian who will do so;
 - e) has no other party (e.g. SGI, WCB, other agency, etc.) which may be responsible for the cost of the required services; and,
 - f) is accepted as an employer eligible for coverage under The Workers' Compensation Act. Where a guardian is entering an Individualized Funding Agreement, the guardian must be eligible for coverage under The Workers' Compensation Act.
3. Needs Assessment and Review:
 - a) A needs assessment will be done jointly by the Regional Health Authority staff and the consumer to determine the need for supportive care services, and the level and type of services that are required;
 - b) An individualized plan will be developed;
 - c) Professional services such as registered nursing or therapies are excluded from Individualized Funding and will continue to be available as required through the regional home care program;

	Special Programs	Date of Issue: September 2006 Revised September 2015
Subject: Individualized Funding

- d) A needs review will be done annually or more frequently if required;
 - e) The Regional Health Authority will remain in contact with the consumer as required for the duration of the Agreement; and,
 - f) The consumer will not be eligible to receive home care supportive services directly from the home care program, if those services have been funded for and defined in the Individualized Funding Agreement.
4. Funding Level:
- a) The funding level for supportive services will be based on assessed need and calculated at a per unit of service rate as determined by the Saskatchewan Ministry of Health. One unit of service equals one hour (See Schedule A Services and Payment Schedule, and Amendment to Schedule A);
 - b) A monthly administrative allowance is provided in addition to the calculated funding level. The administrative allowance can be used for payroll services or other costs of managing the agreement. (See Schedule D);
 - c) The annual insurance premium for WCB coverage is included in the calculated funding level;
 - d) The total maximum monthly client care cost to the home care program will not exceed the amount paid by the Saskatchewan Ministry of Health for long term care funding for the same period. (See Schedule D). This will be reviewed by the Saskatchewan Ministry of Health and updated for implementation on October 1st yearly;
 - e) The maximum monthly level is based on the provincial average publicly funded contribution to the cost of institutional long-term care per resident using the most recent data available. This maximum will be reviewed annually;
 - f) Consumers will continue to be subject to applicable home care fees. Charges for home care fees will be calculated based on the number of actual hours of service that the consumer employs staff (but not greater than the assessed hours); and,
 - g) Home care fees will be invoiced to the consumer. However, in exceptional circumstances, as requested by the consumer, the fee may be deducted from the payment made to the consumer from the Regional Health Authority.
5. Use of Individualized Funding:
- a) Funding will be used by the consumer/guardian to hire workers to provide those supportive services described in the individualized plan;
 - b) Funds may not be used to hire family members such as the consumer's spouse, parent, child, sibling, grandparent, or grandchild, related directly or through marriage or common law;

Community Care Home Care Policy	Section: Special Programs	Index Ref: 13.1 Page 3
		Date of Issue: September 2006 Revised September 2015
Subject: Individualized Funding

- c) Regional Health Authority conflict of interest guidelines may prohibit Regional Health Authority employees from also being employed under an Individualized Funding agreement;
 - d) Funds may not be used to hire workers on a contract basis who would be considered self employed (i.e. service providers are to be considered employees who receive benefits, etc.) except as a short term emergency backup. (The client must be made aware that their purchasing power is reduced);
 - e) Funds may not be used to purchase services from a person or organization when that person or organization owns, leases, rents, or otherwise manages or provides care in the residence in which the consumer lives (e.g. personal care home, licensed group home);
 - f) Funds may not be used by the consumer/guardian to pay for services provided in any hospital or long-term care facility, or for services related to any other health program funded by the Regional Health Authority;
 - g) Funds may not be used for any product or service not usually provided by home care (e.g. food allowances for service providers), or for any other item not identified in the care plan or Agreement; and,
 - h) A consumer/guardian who wishes to use funds to pay for needed services outside of Saskatchewan must obtain written approval from the Regional Health Authority in advance.
 - Approval may be granted at the discretion of the case manager to a maximum of 30 cumulative days during any calendar year.
 - The Regional Health Authority may consider requests for approval of periods beyond 30 cumulative days per year, if supported by the home care manager.
6. The Consumer/Guardian is Responsible for:
- a) recruiting, hiring, training, scheduling, paying, managing the performance of, and terminating their workers;
 - b) negotiating reasonable and fair salary and benefits for their workers;
 - c) making deductions at source such as Income Tax, Canada Pension Plan, Employment Insurance and any other benefits (the consumer/guardian may use funding to purchase payroll and accounting services);
 - d) applying for coverage under Section 12 of The Workers' Compensation Act. If WCB coverage is not available, individualized funding will not be an option;
 - e) complying with all applicable legislation such as The Labour Standards Act, The Occupational Health and Safety Act, The Income Tax Act, The Employment Insurance Act, etc.;
 - f) establishing an emergency back up plan for supportive services that does not rely on the home care program, in the event their scheduled care provider is absent;

- g) submitting a copy of their employee time sheets to the Regional Health Authority on a monthly basis as determined by the Regional Health Authority (See Employee Time Sheet, Schedule B.); and,
 - h) Upon the death of the client funding for the workers may continue for two (2) weeks.
7. Agreement:
- a) The consumer or their guardian will enter into an Individualized Funding Agreement with the Regional Health Authority;
 - b) The consumer/guardian is legally responsible for compliance with the Agreement and will be responsible for all specified duties;
 - c) The Agreement will describe the types of services that funding can be used for, the amount of funding, the duration of the Agreement, and other terms;
 - d) The Agreement expiry date shall be no later than one year from the date of signing; and,
 - e) A needs review will be completed thirty (30) days prior to the expiry of the Agreement and a revised Agreement negotiated if the consumer continues to meet the program criteria.
8. Financial Management:
- a) The consumer/guardian will open a bank account specifically for Individualized Funding that provides monthly statements and cancelled cheques, and allows for direct deposit;
 - b) A quarterly financial report will be submitted to the Regional Health Authority, including monthly banking statements (see Quarterly Financial Statement, Schedule C); and,
 - c) Any funding surplus accumulated by the consumer/guardian in excess of one month's payment will be returned quarterly to the Regional Health Authority.
9. Financial Accountability:
- a) The Regional Health Authority will undertake a financial review with all consumers/guardians in the first year of an Individualized Funding Agreement; and,
 - b) The Regional Health Authority may undertake a random financial review as part of the accountability process (see Financial Audit).

10. Temporary Stoppage of Payment:
 - a) The consumer/guardian will notify the case manager of any circumstances in which funds are not required for a period of two (2) weeks or more;
 - b) Recovery of overpayments will be made on a quarterly basis; and,
 - c) The case manager will notify the appropriate Regional Health Authority personnel of the temporary stoppage of payment, and also the date that payment will be resumed.

11. Termination of the Agreement:
 - a) The term of the Agreement will be for a maximum period of one year. It will be reviewed and renewed annually if the consumer continues to meet the eligibility criteria;
 - b) The Regional Health Authority or the consumer/guardian may terminate the Agreement for any reason with 30 days notice;
 - c) The Regional Health Authority may terminate the Agreement immediately if the consumer/guardian is:
 - not managing the funds appropriately;
 - no longer eligible for Individualized Funding; or,
 - in breach of the Agreement.
 - d) Following termination of the Agreement, the consumer may be eligible to receive direct home care services;
 - e) The Regional Health Authority may undertake a review within 30 days of termination of the Agreement, regardless of the reason for termination.

12. Review Process:
 - a) The consumer/guardian may use the Regional Health Authority client representative to review decisions.

FINANCIAL AUDIT

1. The Regional Health Authority will audit each consumer or guardian's financial records relating to the Individualized Funding Agreement once within the first year of participating in the Individualized Funding option of the home care program. Thereafter, the frequency will be at the discretion of the Regional Health Authority.

2. The Regional Health Authority will contact the consumer to set up a mutually agreeable time to meet.

		Date of Issue: September 2006 Revised September 2015
Subject: Individualized Funding

3. The purpose of the audit is to:
 - a) review the financial records for accuracy and compliance with the requirements of the Individualized Funding Agreement;
 - b) verify the financial positions as reported on each Quarterly Financial Report; and,
 - c) confirm that funds are being spent in accordance with the terms of the Individualized Funding Agreement.

4. For the audit, the consumer or guardian is expected to have the following records available:
 - a) Cheque Register;
 - b) Receipts Journal;
 - c) Payroll Register;
 - d) Employee Time Sheets;
 - e) All bank statements;
 - f) All cancelled cheques;
 - g) All receipts/invoices substantiating the use of the funds; and,
 - h) All copies of remittances to Canada Customs and Revenue Agency.

5. This audit is strictly a review of financial records. It is independent of care needs reviews conducted by the Regional Health Authority.

Subject: Collective Funding

13.1.1 COLLECTIVE FUNDING

POLICY

Collective funding is intended to simplify the managing, funding and accounting process for groups of people living together that are eligible for individualized funding through the home care program. This group of individuals is referred to as the collective group.

This policy is an addendum to the Saskatchewan Ministry of Health Home Care Policy 13.1, titled Individualized Funding.

1. Collective funding is an option of the Regional Health Authority's home care program.
2. The principles and intent of the Individualized Funding Policy apply to the Collective Funding Policy.
3. Collective funding may not be used to purchase services from a person or organization when that person or organization owns, leases, rents or otherwise manages the residence and provides care in which the individual lives (e.g. personal care home, licensed group home, etc).
4. The representative of the collective group, acting in the best interest of the individuals, accepts the responsibility of arranging and managing the support services for the individuals, and reporting to the Regional Health Authority.
5. The needs of each eligible individual will be assessed using the current needs assessment process. The assessment will identify unmet needs of the individual for supportive care services. These services will be consistent with services normally provided by the home care program.
6. Efficiencies in the care plan for the collective group may be gained when the congregate setting of the individuals is considered.
7. The monthly funding level will be calculated by multiplying the hours of care required by the collective group per month, by a per hour rate as determined by the Saskatchewan Ministry of Health (See Schedule D).
8. The home care fee of the collective group will be calculated based on individual assessed need and adjusted monthly income of the individual. The invoice for the home care fee will be sent to the representative of the collective group, who will be responsible for payment.

		Date of Issue: September 2006 Revised September 2015
Subject: Collective Funding

9. The Regional Health Authority will determine the need for the administrative allowance and Workers' Compensation Board premium.
10. The group representative will be responsible for accounting for the monthly funding level, plus funding provided for the Workers' Compensation Board premium and administrative allowance, if applicable.
11. An agreement is entered into between the Regional Health Authority and the representative of the collective group, and includes (but is not limited to):
 - a) names of the individuals receiving support services;
 - b) support service amount for each individual;
 - c) monthly funding level;
 - d) home care fee;
 - e) reporting requirements, which may include utilization, change in service need, change in individual status, audited financial statement, etc.;
 - f) duration of the agreement;
 - g) renewal notice; and,
 - h) termination notice.
12. The Regional Health Authority shall inform the Saskatchewan Ministry of Health of Collective Funding agreements and provide information regarding clients served through this funding arrangement, upon commencement of the agreement and then every February 15th and September 15th (See Appendix C).

FINANCIAL AUDIT

1. The Regional Health Authority will audit each consumer or guardian's financial records relating to the Collective Funding Agreement once within the first year of participating in the Collective Funding option of the home care program. Thereafter, the frequency will be at the discretion of the Regional Health Authority.
2. The Regional Health Authority will contact the consumer to set up a mutually agreeable time to meet.
3. The purpose of the audit is to:
 - a) review the financial records for accuracy and compliance with the requirements of the Collective Funding Agreement;
 - b) verify the financial positions as reported on each Quarterly Financial Report; and,
 - c) confirm that funds are being spent in accordance with the terms of the Collective Funding Agreement.

13.2 CHILDREN WITH HIGHLY COMPLEX CARE NEEDS

POLICY

1. Children with complex, life-threatening conditions benefit from living with their family in their own community. Regional Health Authorities shall provide support to family caregivers to allow these children to live safely at home. The Saskatchewan Ministry of Health will assist the Regional Health Authorities in funding the direct care costs of children with very exceptional home care needs both in terms of complexity and intensity, and where the alternative would be the child living in specialized institutional care. This funding does not cover the costs of equipment or supplies.
2. To be eligible for the program the following conditions must be met:
 - a) the child's needs can be safely met at home;
 - b) the family accepts the role as primary care giver;
 - c) the cost of the child's assessed direct care needs exceeds the average provincial monthly amount paid by the Saskatchewan Ministry of Health for Institutional Supportive Care (See Schedule D, Individualized Funding Level Section);
 - d) the child requires ongoing care for a period of time greater than three (3) months; and,
 - e) the child is younger than 22 years of age.
3. Access to the program will typically be achieved through the following steps:
 - a) the Regional Health Authority staff identify a child with complex care needs as being potentially suitable for care at home. The Saskatchewan Ministry of Health is advised of the situation;
 - b) the assessment process is completed jointly by the discharging Regional Health Authority and the family in consultation with the receiving Regional Health Authority; the results of the needs assessment are used to jointly develop a care plan by the discharging Regional Health Authority, the receiving Regional Health Authority, and the family;
 - c) a funding request form is submitted to:

Director of Program Support (Continuing Care and Rehabilitation)
Community Care Branch
Saskatchewan Ministry of Health
1st Floor, 3475 Albert Street

Subject: Children with Highly Complex Care Needs

- d) the funding request will be forwarded to the Executive Director, Community Care Branch for final approval.
 - e) following approval from the Saskatchewan Ministry of Health and subject to the availability of funds, funding will be allocated for that fiscal year and provided on a bi-weekly basis to the RHAs; and,
 - f) if the funding need continues into the next fiscal year, the Regional Health Authority must submit a subsequent funding request.
4. Care needs will be reviewed as follows:
- a) the child's and family's care needs, including assessment of the appropriateness of the level of care that has been provided and the level of training of the care provider, will be reviewed and re-assessed as necessary, at least every six (6) months;
 - b) these re-assessed needs will be used to determine the level of care that will subsequently be provided;
 - c) a summary of all re-assessments, including changes in care needs and budget implications, will be submitted to the Saskatchewan Ministry of Health; and,
 - d) a service summary will be submitted from the Regional Health Authority to the Saskatchewan Ministry of Health on February 15th, and September 15th of each year (See Appendix 3).
5. The child's care needs will be funded as follows:
- a) the Regional Health Authority providing the care will assume responsibility for the equivalent average provincial amount paid per month by the Saskatchewan Ministry of Health for Institutional Supportive Care funding (See Schedule D, Individualized Funding Levels).
 - b) the family will be responsible for home care fees as per the provincial fee schedule;
 - c) when possible, third party settlements will be accessed prior to additional funding from the Saskatchewan Ministry of Health;
 - d) the Saskatchewan Ministry of Health will assume responsibility for the balance of the direct care costs, provided provincial funds are available;
 - e) funding will be based on average hourly rates for staff as established by the Saskatchewan Ministry of Health; and,
 - f) quarterly reports of service provided and costs associated with the care of the client will be provided to the Saskatchewan Ministry of Health.

6. Since this program is only available for individuals younger than 22 years of age, the Regional Health Authority will initiate transition planning with the client and the client's family well in advance of the individual's 22nd birthday. Options for the individual, and the family and the Regional Health Authority to consider may include regular home care services, Individualized Funding or alternate living arrangements such as special-care homes.

GUIDELINES

1. Client Selection
 - a) The family is willing to care for their child at home as an alternative to facility based care.
 - b) The family accepts the role of primary care provider for their child.
 - c) The home care program can safely meet the child's needs without undue risk to the child, family or care provider (i.e. the child is medically stable).

2. Assessment and Care Plan Development
 - a) An interdisciplinary team, including the client and family, home care coordinator, nurses, physicians, social workers, therapists (occupational, physical, respiratory, speech-language therapists), educators and others, should be involved in the assessment and care plan development.
 - b) A case manager should be identified.
 - c) The assessment and care plan should consider the short-term and long-term physical, emotional, psychosocial, spiritual and educational needs of the child and family.
 - d) The family should be integrally involved in the development and direction of the care plan.
 - e) The care plan should promote the greatest level of independence possible for the child and family.
 - f) The most appropriate care provider should be used depending on the child's needs. For example, a registered nurse may develop a care plan that is delegated to a home care aide/continuing care assistant to implement.
 - g) Recognized standards of care should be used.

3. Discharge Planning from Hospital
 - a) The family and other care providers must receive training in the provision of necessary care and the operation of any equipment in the home. Outreach training may be required if the child is transferring to another Regional Health Authority.
 - b) The family should provide as much of the child's care as possible prior to discharge.

	Special Programs	Date of Issue: September 2006 Revised September 2015
Subject: Children with Highly Complex Care Needs

- c) The necessary equipment and supplies (e.g. ventilators, feeding pumps, wheel chairs, tracheostomy supplies, etc.) will be obtained from the appropriate source (e.g. SAIL, Regional Health Authority, private supplier, etc).
 - d) The home will be modified to accommodate the child's needs. The Regional Health Authority staff will assist the family to determine how to make the modifications.
 - e) "Step down" units, day trips, and weekend passes may be used to ease the transition from facility to home.
 - f) An emergency plan will be established to guide the response to potential catastrophic events. Care providers will be aware of this plan.
 - g) Arrangements for schooling should be made where appropriate.
4. Needs Review
- a) The child's care needs will be reviewed at least every six (6) months.
 - b) The review should include input from the child and family, the care providers and other agencies involved.
 - c) The review will acknowledge the child's changing needs and the family's ability to provide for those needs.
5. The rates will be reviewed by the Saskatchewan Ministry of Health on a regular basis. In the case of Home Health Aides, rates are taken from the most representative and current collective agreement. The rates include 15% for benefits (See Appendix 1).

Community Care Home Care Policy	Section: Nursing Practice	Index Ref: 14.1 Page 1
		Date of Issue: September 2006 Revised September 2015
Subject: Nursing Practice

14.1 NURSING PRACTICE

POLICY

1. The professional nurse has the legal and ethical responsibility for assessing the nursing needs of clients and for planning and giving nursing care. While selected activities or tasks may be delegated to others (employees), the (RN, RPN, LPN) retains responsibility for the quality of care given.
2. The parts of a client care plan that involve nursing treatments should be carried out by a qualified nurse only after receipt of orders from the client's physician or registered nurse (nurse practitioner) [RN(NP)]. A signed physician's or RN(NP)'s order should be kept in the client's file.

GUIDELINES

1. In providing client care, nurses carry out a variety of interventions in many different settings. Client safety demands that nurses perform only those procedures for which they have had appropriate educational preparation.
2. Nurses should not perform any procedure for which they do not feel competent.
3. Before developing a nursing care plan, the professional nurse should be fully cognizant of the findings of the assessment process. Using this information and any additional information as deemed necessary, i.e. collated in collaboration with the client and other professionals concerned with the client's care (e.g. physician, community health nurse, physical therapist, social worker), the nurse will identify the client's care needs and determine appropriate nursing intervention.
4. Nursing assessments and nursing services may be initiated without a physician's referral or orders if a client care plan is defined during the assessment process as personal care only.
5. The measures and methods of nursing interventions are based on the knowledge and skills required to implement the preventive, supportive, restorative, and rehabilitative functions.

Subject: Nursing Procedures by Transfer of Medical Functions

14.2 NURSING PROCEDURES BY TRANSFER OF MEDICAL FUNCTIONS

DEFINITION

Nursing procedures by transfer of medical functions are those medical functions performed primarily by physicians that are outside the usual scope of nursing practice, but which may be transferred to specific nurses in the interests of client care.

POLICY

1. The Regional Health Authority must establish written policies and procedures in accordance with the criteria and standards developed by the Saskatchewan Registered Nurses' Association (SRNA), Registered Psychiatric Nurses Association of Saskatchewan (RPNAS) and Saskatchewan Association of Licensed Practical Nurses (SALPN).
2. The Regional Health Authority must identify nursing procedures by transfer of medical function and ensure the procedures are reasonable, appropriate and consistent with nursing practice in Saskatchewan (as defined by the SRNA, RPNAS and SALPN).
3. The Regional Health Authority's nursing administration and medical authorities, as well as individual physicians, will exercise judgment in developing policies transferring the performance of specific medical functions to nurses.

GUIDELINES

1. The Regional Health Authority must consider the appropriateness of the region's ability to provide resources for instruction, supervision, in-service, and continuing certification for the nurse accepting the transfer of medical function.
2. The Regional Health Authority must consider the accessibility of a physician, range of support services and client population when determining the need to transfer a medical function to nursing.
3. The Regional Health Authority should contact the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Saskatchewan, Saskatchewan Registered Nurses Association, Registered Psychiatric Nurses Association of Saskatchewan or Saskatchewan Association of Licensed Practical Nurses for assistance when determining the appropriateness of the transfer of medical function.

4. The nurse is responsible and accountable for competent performance. The nurse should not perform any procedure in which she/he does not feel competent.
5. Regional Health Authority policies and procedures must be based upon the criteria for safe client care as outlined in the SRNA document, “The registered nurse scope of practice: Special nursing procedures and nursing procedures by transfer of medical functions (1993)”.
6. The Regional Health Authority may access and refer to the following position statements:

14.3 SPECIAL NURSING PROCEDURES

DEFINITION

Special nursing procedures are those procedures in the practice of nursing for which the basic nursing education programs provide neither specific theory nor clinical practice. These procedures are not taught in basic nursing education programs, either because many clients do not need them or because they are required only in specialty areas of practice.

POLICY

1. The Regional Health Authority must establish written policies and procedures in accordance with the criteria and standards developed by the Saskatchewan Registered Nurses' Association (SRNA), Registered Psychiatric Nurses Association of Saskatchewan (RPNAS) and Saskatchewan Association of Licensed Practical Nurses (SALPN).
2. The Regional Health Authority is responsible for providing the nurse with the education and the experience needed to perform special nursing procedures.
3. Special nursing procedures are to be performed only by a nurse with practicing membership under the SRNA, RPNAS and SALPN. Each specific nurse must be certified for each specific special nursing procedure.
4. The Regional Health Authority must identify the special nursing procedure and its implementation ensuring it is reasonable, appropriate and consistent with the nursing practice in Saskatchewan (as defined by SRNA, RPNAS and SALPN).

GUIDELINES

1. Regional Health Authority policies and procedures must be based upon the criteria for safe client care as outlined in the SRNA, RPNAS and SALPN documents, The registered nurse scope of practice: Special nursing procedures and nursing procedures by transfer of medical functions (1993).
2. A nurse should only perform special nursing procedures after the successful completion of an educational program of specific theory and practice.
3. The nurse should not perform any procedures in which s/he does not feel competent.

14.4 LICENSURE OF NURSES

POLICY

1. Employers are responsible for complying with relevant nursing legislation with respect to licensing and registration and for reporting professional misconduct or incompetence resulting in termination.
2. All nurses are responsible for maintaining current practicing membership with their respective regulatory professional bodies such as the Saskatchewan Registered Nurses' Association, the Registered Psychiatric Nurses Association of Saskatchewan, and the Saskatchewan Association of Licensed Practical Nurses.

GUIDELINES

1. Employers should retain on file a current copy of the employees' "License to Practice" as verified by annual documentation issued by the employee's respective regulatory professional body (i.e. SRNA, RPNAS, SALPN).

14.5 DELEGATION OF NURSING PROCEDURES

POLICY

1. All decisions related to delegation of nursing activities must be based upon the fundamental principle of public protection.
2. Registered Nurses, Registered Psychiatric Nurses and Licensed Practical Nurses have ultimate accountability for the management and provision of nursing care, including all delegation decisions.

GUIDELINES

1. Each RN, RPN and LPN is accountable for his/her own practice¹. However, the provision of safe client care is a shared responsibility. All organizations and health care providers involved in the delivery of nursing services have a responsibility to provide safe care.
2. The RN, RPN, LPN who assigns a task or procedure to an unregulated health care provider is responsible for ensuring appropriate support is provided¹. The nurse must consider the client's status and requirements for care, the competence of the care provider and the practice environment.
3. The Regional Health Authority must take into consideration that a single nurse is seldom accountable for all aspects of the decision-making process for delegation, its implementation, supervision and evaluation¹.
4. RN, RPN and LPN may delegate a task only, not the decision making tool¹.
5. The Regional Health Authority must have formal processes in place to support the delegator and delegatee.

14.6 EVIDENCE-BASED PRACTICES AND OUTCOMES

DEFINITION

Evidence-based practice is a process of using current evidence to guide nursing practice and decision-making through the application of consistent, scientific research that demonstrate interventions which improve client care, outcomes and quality of life.

POLICY

1. The Regional Health Authority shall have available written nursing policies and procedures based on current best practice guidelines and other recent evidence-based practice and outcomes.

GUIDELINES

1. The Regional Health Authority nursing policies and procedures should be based upon existing and emerging statements of recommended best practice guidelines.
2. The design and development of regional policies and procedures should provide guidance to and act as a resource for home care staff.
3. Best practice guidelines will:
 - a) improve client care;
 - b) improve client satisfaction;
 - c) provide accessible and available services;
 - d) reduce variation in care;
 - e) transfer research evidence into practice;
 - f) promote nursing knowledge base;
 - g) assist with clinical decision making;
 - h) identify gaps in research;
 - i) stop interventions that have little effect or cause harm; and,
 - j) reduce cost.
4. Best practice guidelines should facilitate and support evidence-based practice.
5. Regional Health Authority home care nursing staff should use the most recent scientific evidence in their practice.

6. Regional Health Authorities have the responsibility to create practice environments that foster critical thinking, allow questioning of current practice and have systems to support and encourage home care nursing staff to access and/or implement research evidence in the delivery of care.
7. Examples of nursing treatments requiring established nursing policy and procedures include: wound management; home IV therapy; negative pressure wound therapy (Vac Therapy), etc.

15.1 BASIC HOME CARE CLIENT FEE POLICY

POLICY

1. Regional Health Authorities shall charge fees for homemaking (including personal care and respite provided by an aide), home maintenance and meal service, except for services provided to end stage palliative clients, a palliative client requiring acute care management of palliative symptoms, and except for personal care services (up to 14 days) provided to short-term acute clients.
2. Regional Health Authorities may not charge Saskatchewan residents for assessment and care coordination, nursing services provided by a nurse (including personal care and respite provided by a nurse) or for therapy provided by an occupational or physical therapist.
3. Home care clients must be informed on admission about the right to apply at any time for an income-tested subsidy to reduce charges for homemaking, home maintenance and meal services.
4. Clients receiving an income-tested subsidy must re-apply annually.

15.1.1 SHORT-TERM ACUTE HOME CARE

POLICY

1. Regional Health Authorities shall support the acute care system by providing the capacity for early hospital discharge to avoid/prevent re-admission and to avoid/prevent imminent admission.

Short-term acute home care includes case management, nursing, personal care and home IV without fees for up to 14 days.

Subject: Calculation of Client Fees for Regional Health Authorities

15.2 CALCULATION OF CLIENT FEES FOR REGIONAL HEALTH AUTHORITIES

POLICY

1. The billing period for home care services is one calendar month.
 2. A unit of chargeable service is a meal, an hour of homemaking or an hour of home maintenance calculated rounded either up or down to ¼ hour increments (See exceptions in 4 and 5 below).
 3. There are no fees for services provided by a case manager, nurse, physical therapist, or occupational therapist.
 4. There are no fees for services provided to palliative clients who are assessed as “end stage” or as requiring acute care management of palliative symptoms, regardless of the palliative stage.
 5. For short-term acute home care clients in addition to the services normally provided without charge (e.g. case management, nursing, home IV), there is no fee for personal care for up to 14 days in order to aid in early discharge from hospital and to avoid or prevent re-admission to hospital, as well as to avoid or prevent imminent admission to hospital. Acute home care clients include clients with mental health issues.
 6. All clients are charged a flat rate per unit for the first 10 units of chargeable service in the month. The unit charge will be determined annually and become effective October 1st. (See Appendix A1 for the current rate).¹
 7. The following clients will only be charged for the first 10 chargeable units of service that they access within the month:
 - a) clients receiving Saskatchewan Assistance Plan (SAP) or Saskatchewan Employment Supplement (SES);
 - b) clients receiving Saskatchewan Income Plan (SIP) and not receiving a War Veteran’s Allowance; or,
 - c) clients with an adjusted monthly income equal to or less than the cost of 10 home care units.

8. For other clients who access more than 10 chargeable units per month, home care charges will be based on the current fee schedule (See Appendix A2):
 - a) clients who do not apply for an income-tested subsidy, or who apply but do not qualify, are charged the highest rate on the fee schedule; and,
 - b) clients who apply and qualify for an income-tested subsidy are charged a rate from the following fee schedule based on their Adjusted Monthly Income (AMI) as determined by the “Calculation of Income Tested Subsidy” that follows the fee schedule (See Appendix B1).

9. The Saskatchewan Ministry of Health will annually adjust the cost per unit of home care to reflect the percentage increases to Old Age Security (OAS)/Guaranteed Income Supplement (GIS) benefit rates.

10. The Saskatchewan Ministry of Health will annually adjust the basic exemption levels used to determine the adjusted monthly income of home care clients.

15.3 CHARGES TO TEMPORARY RESIDENTS

GUIDELINES

1. For Canadian Citizens who are not Saskatchewan Residents:
 - a) Regional Health Authorities should charge non-Saskatchewan residents staying temporarily in the province for all services, including assessment and care coordination, nursing and therapies;
 - b) Regional Health Authorities should charge non-Saskatchewan residents staying temporarily in the province the direct cost of providing a unit of service, including all service costs, but not administration costs; and,
 - c) In exceptional circumstances, where the charge for services provided imposes a serious financial hardship for the non-resident client, Regional Health Authorities may charge less than the full cost of service. A Regional Health Authority, however, should not charge less than the amount a Saskatchewan resident with the same income would be charged for the same service if she/he applied for an income-tested subsidy.

2. For Non-Canadian Citizens:
 - a) Out-of-country residents staying temporarily in the province should be charged full cost of service including administrative costs.

15.4 THIRD PARTY PAYERS

GUIDELINES

1. A third party payer is an agency or program that is responsible for paying the costs of services provided to a client. The major third party payers in Saskatchewan are:
 - a) Saskatchewan Government Insurance (SGI);
 - b) Workers Compensation Board (WCB); and,
 - c) Veterans Affairs Canada (VAC);
2. These guidelines outline the key factors for determining eligibility and the benefits that may be provided for each of the major third party payers. The program descriptions are simplified to highlight aspects of interest to home care programs and are not comprehensive.
3. The guidelines also recommend basic procedures for Regional Health Authorities to follow when dealing with each of the major third party agencies and provide contact information for other agencies.

Saskatchewan Government Insurance (SGI)

Eligibility	Based on the insurance policy and, in liability cases, the judgment of a court.
Benefits	SGI will pay the Regional Health Authority the client fee portion of providing the home care service.
Recommendations	When a home care client has established a valid claim with SGI, the Regional Health Authority should bill SGI directly for the client fee portion of providing the following home care service: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Home Management • Meals on Wheels; and, • Home Maintenance.
Notes	The Regional Health Authority will continue to be the key agent in collecting SGI payment for the provision of home care services to a client.

Workers' Compensation Board (WCB)

Eligibility	Workers injured on the job excluding teachers, domestics, out-workers, employees of farmers and ranchers, and workers exempted by regulations. Some of the above may be covered through voluntary action of their employer.
Benefits	The WCB pays costs incurred as a direct result of a compensable injury. Each case is assessed by the WCB on its own merits, and a range of benefits may be available. Some types of benefits relevant to home care include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • costs of personal care services (for current payment rates contact WCB); • nursing services prescribed by a doctor; and, • other services, such as home modification, are sometimes approved. The level of benefits provided is based on individual circumstances. Normally payment is made directly to the care provider or care-providing agency. Prior approval of services is required.
Recommendations	In the case of a service that is directly related to an injury incurred on the job, the Regional Health Authority should: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • seek immediate approval from WCB; • begin providing the service; and, • charge unit costs, including administration and assessment and coordination costs, to the WCB if and when the service is approved.
Notes	Regional Health Authorities may have to subsidize the cost of services provided before approval is received.

Veterans Affairs Canada (VAC)

Veterans Affairs Canada has three programs that may be of significance to Regional Health Authorities:

War Veterans Allowance

Recommendations	Veterans Affairs covers costs to the client only (e.g. client fees). The Regional Health Authority should advise the client to contact the nearest Veterans Affairs district office (Regina or Saskatoon) directly.
-----------------	---

Canadian Pension Commission

Recommendations	This program does not generally cover home care services. The Regional Health Authority should advise the qualified individual requiring benefits to contact the nearest Veterans Affairs district office (Saskatoon or Regina) directly.
-----------------	---

Veterans Independence Program

Recommendations	Veterans Affairs covers costs to the client only (e.g. client fees). The Regional Health Authority should advise the client to contact the nearest Veterans Affairs district office (Saskatoon or Regina) directly. In a case where an eligible client needs more services than the Regional Health Authority can provide, or services not offered by home care, the client may be able to obtain financial assistance from the Veterans Independence Program. When a Regional Health Authority identifies such needs, it may be able to facilitate the coverage for the client by contacting the nearest Veterans Affairs district office directly. Veterans Affairs may request home care assessment information to support the client's application. Regional Health Authorities may provide this assessment information with the consent of the client.

	Veterans Affairs may also ask the Regional Health Authority to conduct an additional nursing assessment of the client using its own form. The Regional Health Authority may agree to do the requested nursing assessments but should charge for it. Veterans Affairs Canada has agreed to pay “the customary professional fee” for nursing assessments conducted on its behalf. Note that occasionally Veterans Affairs Canada may ask a Regional Health Authority to perform a nursing assessment (using its form) of a person who is not a home care client. Again, the Regional Health Authority may agree to perform the assessment, but should charge costs to Veterans Affairs Canada.

15.5 HOME CARE NURSING SUPPLIES

POLICY

1. Regional Health Authorities shall provide the following nursing supplies to home care clients, if required (nursing supplies are available at no charge to the client):
 - a) Wound Care Supplies:
 - i. Standard gauze (2x2, 4x4), klingwrap, abdominal pads;
 - ii. bandages (e.g. conform);
 - iii. medical tape (e.g. standard tape, mefix, hypafix);
 - iv. absorbent under pads;
 - v. saline and antimicrobial solutions (e.g. salvodil);
 - vi. gloves, sterile dressing trays, suture removal sets, staple removal sets, sterile cotton tipped applicators; and,
 - vii. dressings and substances that facilitate wound healing, and reduce the number and frequency of dressing changes.
 - b) Urinary Supplies:
 - i. Catheters;
 - ii. catheter trays;
 - iii. irrigation trays;
 - iv. urinary drainage bags (bedside bags &/or leg bags);
 - v. gloves; and,
 - vi. water-soluble lubricant (supply list does not include adult incontinent products e.g. Attends).
 - c) Bowel supplies:
 - i. enema bags;
 - ii. rectal tubes;
 - iii. gloves; and,
 - iv. water-soluble lubricant (supply list does not include Fleet enemas).
2. These supplies are in addition to any other supplies that home care clients would be eligible for, without charge (Policies 15.6 and 15.8 of the Saskatchewan Ministry of Health Home Care Policy Manual).

Subject: Home Parenteral Medication Program Coverage

15.6 HOME PARENTERAL MEDICATION PROGRAM COVERAGE

POLICY

1. Regional Health Authorities will cover home/nursing home administration of approved parenteral medications when they are prescribed as an acute care replacement measure. The Saskatchewan Drug Plan will cover approved parenteral medications administered for maintenance therapy of life long or chronic conditions except when the patient is a registered inpatient in an acute care facility. Drugs administered parenterally include sub-cutaneous or intramuscular injections as well as intravenous medications.
2. The Regional Health Authorities will cover supply costs for medications listed below in both the acute and chronic therapy categories. These are purchased through hospital contracts and would have significant cost implications if purchased outside of these contracts. The supplies to be provided to the client without charge include but are not limited to, intravenous solutions, tubing, cathlons, heparin locks and caps, pump cassettes, syringes and needles.
3. Eligibility of drugs for coverage will be subject to the Hospital Benefit Drug List, Saskatchewan Formulary, and/or Regional Health Authority protocols.
4. These policies apply to residents of special care homes as well as community residents.

GUIDELINES

1. Acute Care Replacement medications are parenteral medications that enable early discharge from the acute care site, or that prevent admission to the acute care site:
 - a) Medications are to be provided by the Regional Health Authority without charge to the individual;
 - b) Eligible drugs are listed in the Hospital Benefit Drug List (Supplementary Information Section) of the Saskatchewan Health Drug Plan Formulary;
 - c) Changes to the Hospital Benefit Drug List are through recommendations of the Saskatchewan drug review process and the Advisory Committee on Institutional Pharmacy Practice;
 - d) Regional Health Authorities shall establish appropriate guidelines for home parenteral therapy and an appropriate screening mechanism for the services; and,

Subject: Home Parenteral Medication Program Coverage

- e) Considerations when determining if parenteral therapy at home or in a special-care home is appropriate for a particular individual shall include the:
 - i. ability to coordinate and plan the care with the physician, home care program/special-care home program, hospital/health centre and pharmacist;
 - ii. practicality and safety of administering the drug at home or in a special-care home;
 - iii. ability and motivation of the individual and/or the availability of family support, when therapy is delivered at home;
 - iv. availability of more appropriate oral alternatives; and,
 - v. cost-effectiveness of providing the drug at home or in a special-care home.

- 2. Chronic Condition Medications are injectable drugs used in the treatment of chronic conditions administered in the community or in hospitals to hospital outpatients where the only purpose in entering a hospital is to receive the drug. Cost of these injectable drugs will be covered under the Saskatchewan Drug Plan and subject to a co-payment and deductible where applicable:
 - a) eligible drugs are listed in the Saskatchewan Health Drug Plan Formulary;
 - b) maintenance of the Formulary is through the formulary approval process via the Saskatchewan drug review process;
 - c) where applicable, these medications are subject to Exception Drug Status approval, co-pay, and family deductible;
 - d) drugs that have not been approved by the Saskatchewan review process will not be considered benefit drugs under the Drug Plan;
 - e) certain drugs require Exception Drug Status (EDS) approval (see Appendix A of the Saskatchewan Health Drug Plan Formulary for EDS Program information, as well as a complete list of EDS drugs); and,
 - f) benefits provided prior to this policy will be grandfathered (e.g. pulse therapy, IV iron, Eprex).

15.7 PROGRAMS COVERING DRUG AND SUPPLY COSTS

POLICY

1. All patients receive coverage of most drug and medical supply costs while they are in the hospital. People who are not in hospital may have their costs covered by a variety of programs, depending on factors such as the nature of their condition, the type of drug or supply needed and their own financial need.
2. This section outlines some of the major programs that may cover the costs of drugs and/or supplies for persons outside hospitals. Regional Health Authorities should inform clients about relevant programs and encourage them to pursue the options available to them.
3. All references in regards to the provision of nursing supplies to clients are described under Policies 15.5, 15.6, and 15.8 of the Saskatchewan Ministry of Health Home Care Policy Manual.

GUIDELINES

1. Hospital Services

- a) The Saskatchewan Ministry of Health funds Regional Health Authorities to pay for most services provided by hospitals to inpatients;
- b) For outpatient beneficiaries, coverage extends only to those services administered on hospital premises; and,
- c) In practice, some hospitals do provide a two or three-day supply of approved medications or required supplies to patients leaving the hospital if the patient does not have immediate access to those medications or supplies (this procedure of emergency dispensing is intended to assist the patient only until he or she can have a prescription filled or purchase supplies through a retail pharmacy).

2. Saskatchewan Prescription Drug Plan

- a) Coverage of Drugs Listed in the Formulary:
 - i. the Drug Plan provides benefits to eligible beneficiaries to assist with the acquisition of drugs, which are listed in the Saskatchewan Formulary and prescribed by a licensed physician, registered nurse(nurse practitioner), dentist or duly qualified Optometrist;
 - ii. insulin and urine testing agents, which may be obtained without a prescription, are also covered;

- iii. the range of drugs listed in the formulary enables physicians to select appropriate courses of therapy for most patients;
 - iv. the Plan does not cover drugs that are covered by other government agencies (e.g. drugs administered in hospitals, anti-tuberculosis drugs, antineoplastic agents, blood derivatives, vaccines and sera); and,
 - v. the Plan also does not normally cover over-the-counter preparations that are available without a prescription at reasonable cost.
- b) Standard Beneficiaries (See Appendix C for Current Rates);
 - c) Income Supplement Beneficiaries (See Appendix C for Current Rates);
 - d) Non-Standard Beneficiaries
 - i. Certain categories of beneficiaries are entitled to Prescription Drug Plan benefits that entail the payment of a minimal prescription charge, or are exempted from the charge when they receive certain drugs:
 - Saskatchewan Social Assistance Plan recipients are entitled to receive the following prescribed drugs without charge:
 - (a) insulin preparations;
 - (b) oral hypoglycemics;
 - (c) injectable Vitamin B12;
 - (d) oral contraceptives;
 - (e) allergenic extracts; and,
 - (f) products used in megavitamin therapy.
 - Saskatchewan Social Assistance Plan recipients are entitled to receive other formulary drugs at a reduced prescription charge (a maximum of $2.00);
 - Saskatchewan Social Assistance Plan recipients, who are granted additional coverage on the basis of drug need, and persons 18 years of age or under who are dependants of Saskatchewan Social Assistance Plan beneficiaries, are entitled to obtain all formulary drugs without charge; and,
 - Cystic fibrosis patients, paraplegics and chronic renal disease patients are entitled to receive all prescribed formulary drugs at no cost (Saskatchewan Aids to Independent Living also covers the cost of certain non-formulary disease-related drugs prescribed for these beneficiaries).
 - Palliative Care clients receive formulary drugs at no cost.

- e) Exception Drug Status (EDS)
- i. these drugs are listed in the formulary as exception drug status Exception Drug Status (EDS) drugs (refer to Appendix A of the Formulary); and,
 - ii. the prescribing physician, registered nurse(nurse practitioner), dentist, or pharmacist must make requests for exception drug status to the Saskatchewan Prescription Drug Plan;
 - Regional Health Authorities may call the Saskatchewan Prescription Drug Plan inquiry line at 1-800-667-7578 (press 1) when in doubt about what to advise a client regarding coverage of drugs.
- f) Saskatchewan Aids to Independent Living (SAIL)
- i. One of the SAIL programs may provide the following types of equipment, appliances and supplies to persons with physical disabilities in the community:
 - prosthetic and orthotic appliances (no charge);
 - mobility aids, such as conventional, manual and electric power wheelchairs, positioning devices and specialized walking aids, walkers (free loan);
 - environmental adaptations, such as commodes, hydraulic patient lifts, hospital beds and accessories (free loan);
 - oxygen funding when prescribed by a physician and oximetry or blood gas criteria are met; and,
 - respirators and suction machines for oral and tracheal suctioning when prescribed by a physician.
 - ii. SAIL provides some other special appliances, equipment and/or medical supplies through the Paraplegia Program, Compression Garment Program, Hemophilia Program and Ostomy program (50% coverage for Ostomy supplies) for paraplegics, disabled children, hemophiliacs, persons who need special telephone appliances and persons requiring ostomy supplies (50% cost coverage for ostomy supplies) as special benefits;
 - iii. SAIL also covers the costs of non-formulary disease-related drugs, including prescription fees, for patients with cystic fibrosis, paraplegia and chronic renal disease;
 - iv. Physicians, registered nurse (nurse practitioners), physical and occupational therapists, public health nurses and approved home care nursing coordinators each have authority to requisition some types of SAIL equipment; and,

- g) Supplemental Health Program
- i. Persons who are nominated through Social Services including beneficiaries of the Saskatchewan Social Assistance Plan, Family Health Benefits or Saskatchewan Income Plan may be eligible for Supplementary Health Program benefits; and,
- ii. The Supplementary Health benefits include the costs of most medical supplies and appliances that are prescribed by the appropriate health care professional and loans low cost aids such as environmental aids such as:
- bath seats and benches;
 - wall bars;
 - tub clamps and toilet arm rests; and,
 - ambulatory aids such as crutches and canes.

See the section above on the Saskatchewan Prescription Drug Plan (Non-standard beneficiaries) for information on coverage of drugs for Social Assistance Plan recipients.

3. Saskatchewan Cancer Agency

Cancer treatment drugs included on the Saskatchewan Cancer Agency's formulary, or approved for coverage through its exception drug status program, are provided to cancer patients at no charge. In addition to the two tertiary cancer centres, chemotherapy is also provided for cancer patients in community oncology centres across the province.

4. Local Resources

- a) Regional Health Authorities should investigate resources that are available locally;
 - b) Many organizations, such as the Canadian Cancer Society and the Multiple Sclerosis Society of Canada, have local chapters that may be able to provide information on sources of supplies for their client groups; and,
- Local service clubs may be willing to donate money for medical supplies, as some have done in the past.

15.8 PALLIATIVE CARE SUPPLIES AND CHARGES

POLICY

1. Individuals who have been designated as “end stage” palliative, or assessed as requiring management of acute palliative symptoms, through the Regional Health Authority’s assessment and case management process, are exempt of:
 - a) home care fees for home care services;
 - b) resident charges when in the hospital;
 - c) resident charges when admitted specifically for “end stage” palliative purposes in special-care (nursing) homes and health centres; and,
 - d) resident charges when admitted specifically for management of acute palliative symptoms in hospital, in special-care (nursing) homes and health centres (i.e. are exempted from charges regardless of the care setting).

2. Individuals assessed as stable and requiring long term care or respite services by the Regional Health Authority’s assessment and case management process are responsible for:
 - a) home care fees when receiving home care; and,
 - b) resident charges when in hospital, special-care (nursing) homes and health centres (i.e. are assessed charges regardless of the care setting).

3. Dietary Supplements and Basic Supplies
 - a) Individuals (who may be receiving care in their own homes, in hospitals, in special-care homes or in health centres) who have been designated as palliative (regardless of stage) by the Regional Health Authority’s assessment and case management process are provided without charge:
 - i. required dietary supplements/meals replacements and all accompanying supplies;
 - ii. dressing supplies, in addition to those currently available without charge to cancer patients;
 - iii. ambulatory infusion pumps and equipment, including cassettes, solutions, tubing and supplies and other approved pain control delivery technologies;
 - iv. intravenous (IV) and hypodermoclysis equipment, including minibag IV solutions, tubing, cathlons, heparin/saline locks and caps, syringes and needles;
 - v. urinary catheter equipment, including catheter bags, connectors and catheter trays; and,

Subject: Palliative Care Supplies and Charges

- vi. incontinence briefs and pads with the exception that in special care homes and health centers, incontinent briefs and pads are provided without charge only to individuals who are admitted specifically to those facilities for end stage palliative purposes or specifically for management of acute palliative symptoms.
4. Oxygen Coverage¹
- a) The full cost of approved oxygen and corresponding equipment prescribed by a physician and required at home, in special-care homes, or in health centres is covered by Saskatchewan Aids to Independent Living (individuals must be designated as “end stage” palliative through the Regional Health Authority’s assessment and case management process); and,
 - b) Blood gas and oximetry criteria are waived for those clients designated “end stage” palliative and considered eligible for additional benefits through the Regional Health Authority’s assessment and case management process.
5. Drug Coverage
- a) Physicians have the authority to designate individuals as palliative and therefore eligible for drug plan coverage for regular formulary and exception drug status drugs; and
 - b) Individuals in the later stages of their illness, for whom care consists primarily of managing symptoms such as pain, nausea and stress, may be eligible for full coverage of benefit drugs under the Saskatchewan Prescription Drug Plan.²

² Drug Plan coverage does not depend on the Regional Health Authority’s designation of the individual as “palliative,” but rather on the physician’s designation. As well, drug coverage is not restricted to the end stage of the palliative process.

15.9 BENEFITS/PAYMENT POLICY FOR SASKATCHEWAN RESIDENTS OUT OF PROVINCE WITHIN CANADA

POLICY

1. The Saskatchewan Ministry of Health will provide out-of-province (OOP) home care benefits for eligible Saskatchewan residents in other provinces within Canada, as follows:
 - a) Home-based services and supplies, and intravenous drugs and supplies, required for:
 - i. acute-care discharge;
 - ii. palliative home care for a maximum of three months, until the individual is eligible for health benefits in their new home province; and,
 - iii. short-term OOP vacations (maximum of 30 days/year) accompanied by a family member, or to visit family members who will provide the client with support while the client is OOP (services provided during the OOP vacations may include respite care for the primary caregivers, including day programs if appropriate).

GUIDELINES

1. Approval Process
 - a) the client or his/her advocate (which may include an OOP or Regional Health Authority case manager) will request, and receive approval from the Saskatchewan Ministry of Health before OOP services commences; and,
 - b) a case-specific written agreement will be negotiated between the Saskatchewan Ministry of Health and the OOP agency providing the services prior to the provision of services, including the following terms and conditions:
 - i. identification of the parties of the agreement (i.e., the OOP service agency and the Saskatchewan Ministry of Health) and the name, permanent address, sex, birth date and Saskatchewan personal health number of the client;
 - ii. term of the agreement;
 - iii. type of services, equipment, supplies, and drugs required by the client as assessed by the Saskatchewan Ministry of Health and/or the OOP agency, and the cost of each;
 - iv. specific services, equipment, supplies, and drugs that will be covered by the Saskatchewan Ministry of Health; and,
 - v. charges for which the OOP agency will bill the client, if any.

Subject: Benefits/Payment Policy for Saskatchewan Residents Out Of Province within Canada

2. Limitations

- a) Available benefits are subject to the following limitations:
 - i. approval for OOP benefits must be applied for and received prior to the commencement of services (in exceptional cases, and at the Saskatchewan Ministry of Health’s discretion, retroactive approval may be given);
 - ii. daily costs for the OOP home-based “acute care substitution” services cannot exceed the per diem rate paid in the out-of-province hospital;
 - iii. costs for other services covered by this policy must be less than or comparable to costs for those services in Saskatchewan; and,
- b) fees paid by the client for OOP home-based services and supplies and intravenous drugs and supplies will be consistent with Saskatchewan provincial policy regarding fees and supplies (the client will be charged fees by the out-of-province agency as if the client were receiving services in Saskatchewan).

3. Administration of the Policy

- a) Requests for OOP services for Saskatchewan residents will be received, reviewed and negotiated by the Community Care Branch, in consultation with Drug Plan and Extended Benefits Branch when appropriate. Requests will be approved or denied based on the preceding policy criteria.
- b) During negotiations, arrangements will be made to link the OOP agency and client to a case manager in the Saskatchewan Regional Health Authority where the client normally resides (if a case manager is not already involved), in order to facilitate the client’s return to Saskatchewan and resumption of services in Saskatchewan if required.
- c) For exceptional cases, a letter will be provided to the client/or family and to the client’s Regional Health Authority explaining decisions regarding the approval or denial of coverage.

4. Definitions

- a) Home Care Services – services covered by this policy include case management/assessment, nursing, personal care, respite and related supplies. Home management (e.g., housework), meals, and home maintenance are not included.
- b) Acute Care Substitution – acute care substitution services are those services which home care is providing that might otherwise have to be provided in hospital, to a person recently discharged from hospital; or services provided by home care which eliminate the need for hospital care. The client’s care plan will usually indicate a definite term of acute care.

- c) Palliative Care – a client is considered to be requiring palliative care when:
 - i. the client has a condition which has been diagnosed by a physician as terminal with life expectancy of weeks or months (usually not longer than six (6) months); and,
 - ii. active treatment to prolong life is no longer the goal of the treatment and care of the client.

Appendix A1

Rate for First 10 Units of Service

All clients are charged a flat rate per unit for the first 10 units of chargeable service in the month. As of October 1, 2015, the unit charge is $7.96 for each unit for the first 10 units.

For Mamawetan Churchill River and Keewatin Yatthé Regional Health Authorities and Athabasca Health Authority, the client fee is $2.50 per unit of service to a maximum of $75.00 (or 30 units) per month per client for chargeable services.

Appendix A2

CLIENT FEE INSTRUCTION

Calculation of Client Charges (effective October 1, 2015)

1. There is no fee for services provided by a nurse, physical therapist, or occupational therapist. There is no fee for services provided to palliative clients who are assessed as end stage or as requiring acute care management of palliative symptoms regardless of palliative stage. In addition, there is no fee for personal care services for up to 14 calendar days for short-term acute clients, including clients with mental health issues, in order to aid in early discharge from hospital and to avoid or prevent readmission to hospital, as well as to avoid or prevent imminent admission to hospital.
2. For chargeable services, all clients pay $7.96 for each unit for the first 10 units in a month. After 10 units in a month, the client will be charged a unit rate corresponding to the client's adjusted monthly income. A unit is an hour or a meal.
3. The maximum monthly charge is $79.60 for:
 - clients receiving S.A.P. or S.E.S.;
 - clients receiving S.I.P. and not receiving a War Veteran's Allowance; and,
 - any other client with an adjusted monthly income of $79.60 or less.
4. For all other clients, the maximum charge is the lesser of:
The rate indicated below corresponding to the client's adjusted monthly income, or $480 per month.

POLICY

Instructions for Calculation of Income Tested Subsidy

GENERAL

The subsidy application is usually administered to the applicant in person by an employee of the Regional Health Authority's home care program or the region's assessment and case management unit. Only the income of the applicant and spouse (if residing with the applicant) should be included. In some circumstances, the client may choose to forward the completed subsidy application to the regional home care program office. If the client is under 18 years of age, the income of the parents or guardians should be used for the subsidy application.

- I. Annual Income
Net Annual Income - Enter the amount from line 236 of the Canada Revenue Agency Notice of Assessment for both the applicant and spouse.
- II. Deductions
Total Payable – Enter the amount from line 435 of the Canada Revenue Agency Notice of Assessment for both the applicant and spouse.
- III. Exemptions
Basic Exemption levels are established periodically for the applicant, spouse, and dependent children. Effective October 1, 2015, the monthly rates are: (a) $1,529 for the applicant; (b) $980 for the spouse; (c) $436 for each dependent under 18 years of age; and (d) $980 for the first dependent child under 18 years of age in a single parent family. Note that if a single parent claims a spousal exemption for one child, that child cannot also receive a dependent exemption.
- IV. Calculation of Adjusted Monthly Income
The applicant's adjusted monthly income is calculated by subtracting the total annual deductions from total annual income, and dividing the remainder by 12 months to arrive at the Total Monthly Income. Monthly exemption amounts are then subtracted from the Total Monthly Income to arrive at the Adjusted Monthly Income.
- V. Declaration
Regional Health Authorities have the authority to require evidence that the applicant's income declaration is accurate. Be sure that the applicant and spouse read and understand the declaration before signing.

Appendix C - Special Support Program

Effective July 1st, 2002, the $850 semi-annual deductible was eliminated. Families who previously relied on the $850 deductible may apply to the Drug Plan Special Support Program for assistance with the cost of their prescriptions. The Special Support program is designed to assist those with benefit drug costs that are high in relation to their income;

This program establishes a threshold (deductible) and/or copayment percentage based on adjusted total family income and total actual family drug costs.

Adjusted total family income is based on 3.4% of total income (Line 150) less $3500 for each dependent under 18 years of age.

Deductible periods are semi-annual (January – June; July – December)

The Special Support Program does not include individuals/families who are covered under federal government programs, such as the federal Non-Insured Health Benefits Program or Veteran Affairs Canada.

Prescription drugs listed on the Saskatchewan Formulary and approved under Exception Drug Status.

Application forms are available:

- online on the Government website
- at your pharmacy
- by contacting the Drug Plan and Extended Benefits Branch toll free at 1-800-667-7581 or in Regina at 787-3317

Side A – CRA Application/Consent One-Time Application Form

To apply for the Special Support Program, complete and sign an application and consent form. By using Side A the applicant authorizes the release of income information from Canada Revenue Agency to the Drug Plan and Extended Benefits Branch to determine eligibility and reassess coverage each year.

Side B – Annual Application

To apply for Special Support Program, this form can be completed and submitted with income information each year.

Appendix D – Seniors Drug Plan

Effective July 1, 2008, an income test component was introduced to the Seniors' Drug Plan.

Individuals are eligible if:

- They are a Saskatchewan resident 65 years of age and older;
- They have a reported net income (Line 236) that is less than the provincial age credit.

Individuals must submit a complete application (Form A). The program ensures that eligible Saskatchewan seniors pay $20* per prescription for drugs listed in the Saskatchewan Formulary or approved under Exception Drug Status.

The Seniors' Drug Plan does not include seniors who are covered under federal government programs, such as the federal Non-Insured Health Benefits Program or Veteran Affairs Canada.

Seniors with Guaranteed Income Supplement (G.I.S.) or Seniors' Income Plan (S.I.P.) have a $200 or $100 semi-annual deductible. Individual prescriptions under these two programs are $20.

Seniors with Special Support coverage will pay the lesser of the Special Support co-payment or the $20 per prescription.

Clients with the following coverage WILL NOT be affected and will continue to be covered in the same manner as in the past:

- Saskatchewan Aids to Independent Living (SAIL)
- Palliative Care
- Seniors receiving S.I.P. and residing in a long term facility

Which prescriptions are covered?

Prescription drugs listed on the Saskatchewan Formulary and approved under Exception Drug Status.

How does someone apply?

Application forms are available:

- online at www.health.gov.sk.ca/seniors-prescription-drug-plan
- at your pharmacy
- by contacting the Drug Plan and Extended Benefits Branch toll free at 1-800-667-7581 or in Regina at 787-3317

Form A – CRA Application/Consent One-Time Application Form

To apply for the Seniors' Drug Plan program, each eligible senior must complete and sign an application and consent form. By using Form A, the applicant authorizes the release of income information from Canada Revenue Agency to the Drug Plan and Extended Benefits Branch to determine eligibility and reassess coverage each year.

Form B – Annual Application

To apply for the Seniors Drug Plan, this form can be completed and submitted with income information each year.

Appendix E

Income Assistance Programs: eligibility to the income assistance programs are determined by the Ministry of Social Services.

Saskatchewan Assistance Plan covers benefit prescription drug costs: (SAP) (Plan 1,2,3)

- $2.00 for prescriptions for Plan 1
- $0.00 for prescriptions for Plan II, Plan III and children under 18 years of age.

Family Health Benefits covers benefit prescription drug costs:

Adults have a $100 semi-annual deductible; once deductible is reached, the copayment is reduced to 35% of the actual cost;

Children under 18 years of age pay $0.00 for their prescriptions.

Saskatchewan Assured Income Disability (SAID) has similar coverage as SAP.

Seniors receiving the federal Guaranteed Income Supplement (GIS).

$100 (if in a nursing home) and $200 semi-annual deductible; once the deductible is reached, the copayment is reduced to 35% of the actual cost;

Seniors receiving the provincial Saskatchewan Income Plan (SIP)

$100 semi-annual deductible; once the deductible is reached, the copayment is reduced to 35% of the actual cost.

16.0 QUALITY IMPROVEMENT PROGRAM

POLICY

1. The Regional Health Authority shall deliver optimal client care that is goal-directed, within the resources available. This may be done through the development and implementation of a quality improvement program.
2. Each Regional Health Authority shall develop and implement an effective mechanism for evaluating the home care program.
3. This guide was developed to:
 - a) improve each Regional Health Authority's home care program; and,
 - b) ensure that the objectives of the Saskatchewan Home Care Program are being met.

GUIDELINES

1. The development of a quality improvement program should be done through the Quality Improvement Coordinator of the Regional Health Authority. The Regional Health Authority board, on advice from its management, professional and other staff, may determine the overall plan for the quality improvement program. The goals of each home care service's quality improvement program should be consistent with the overall goals of the program.
2. Within the quality improvement program there should be a:
 - a) system to evaluate human and financial resources;
 - b) system to identify actual and potential problems;
 - c) mechanism for assessment and investigation of problems;
 - d) process to monitor activities to ensure that the desired results have been achieved and are sustained;
 - e) system for documenting the effectiveness of the plan in improving client care; and,
 - f) process to measure outcomes of the home care service as they relate to the philosophy, mission and goals of the Regional Health Authority.

Community Care Home Care Policy	Section: 1 Quality Improvement Program	Index Ref: 16.0 Page 2
		Date of Issue: September 2006 Revised September 2015
Subject: Quality Improvement Program

3. Quality improvement activities should:
 - a) manage human resources;
 - b) manage risk and incident reporting;
 - c) review program utilization;
 - d) review processes; and,
 - e) educate staff and volunteers in quality improvement.

4. The effectiveness of the home care quality improvement program should be reviewed on an annual basis. The review should identify components of the program that should be expanded, altered or deleted.

5. The quality improvement program evaluation should ensure that it is ongoing, comprehensive and effective in improving client care as well as being cost-effective and program-efficient.

18.0 OCCUPATIONAL HEALTH AND SAFETY

POLICY

1. The Regional Health Authority shall have policies in place to ensure the provision of a safe work environment for home care employees.
2. Copies of the most recent Occupational Health and Safety Act and the associated Regulations of Saskatchewan Labour must be readily available to home care employees.

GUIDELINES

1. The prevention of accidents and provision of a safe work environment is the responsibility of every individual who works in home care.
2. The Occupational Health and Safety Committee will oversee the identification of existing and potential risks to the health or safety of workers and the measures that must be taken to reduce, eliminate or control those risks.
3. All accidents should be reported to the home care supervisor and recorded on an incident form.
4. The cause of every accident should be determined so preventative action can be taken.

Subject: Safety Hazards

18.1 SAFETY HAZARDS

POLICY

1. The Regional Health Authority shall have policies in place to reduce the risk of injury to home care employees as a result of exposure to safety hazards that commonly occur in the work environment. Common safety hazards may include not being able to communicate with the home care office, faulty electrical equipment, poorly maintained equipment, lack of fire protection devices, and exposure to cleaning products.

GUIDELINES

1. Mechanisms to ensure that home care workers have contact with the home care office at all times are required.
2. The Regional Health Authority should ensure that all equipment used by the home care staff is in safe working condition. Even if the client maintains the equipment the employer has a responsibility to ensure its safety.
3. Home care staff should be aware of the fire safety plan and the availability of fire protection devices for each home where service is provided.
4. Any chemical product used in the home by staff must come from clearly marked manufacturer's containers. The home care office shall maintain material safety data sheets (MSDS) on each product used by home care staff.

Subject: Infection Control

18.2 INFECTION CONTROL

POLICY

1. The Regional Health Authority shall have an Infection Control Policy and Program in place to prevent, control and monitor the spread of infectious organisms between clients, home care staff and home care equipment that is in accordance with the Saskatchewan Health Communicable Disease Control Regulations and the Public Health Act.

GUIDELINES

1. The Regional Health Authority should develop and implement policies and procedures related to standard precautions and transmission-based precautions to guard against the spread of pathogens through airborne, droplet, and contact means.
2. The Regional Health Authority should provide regular updated information to home care staff on infection control (i.e. continuing education workshops, in-services, newsletters and other media).
3. All home care staff should be familiar with the policies and procedures specific to their role in infection control.
4. All home care staff should be advised to be immunized against commonly communicable diseases that may occur in the client group they are serving. Immunizations may include Hepatitis A, Hepatitis B, Influenza, Measles, Mumps, Pneumococcal, Polio, Rubella, Diphtheria and Tetanus¹.
5. Home Care staff should have provisions in place for personal protective clothing and/or equipment relevant to the health and safety of their workplace².
6. All reusable home care equipment should be disinfected through an approved method between uses on the same or different clients. Depending on the type of equipment, this may be accomplished by submerging the instrument in boiling water for 10 to 20 minutes or by submerging the instrument in a chemical disinfectant for the time period recommended by the manufacturer. Home microwaves cannot be used to safely disinfect equipment.

¹ MMR immunization is limited, i.e., if health care worker is born before 1970, they do not require immunization.

7. The Regional Health Authority should have a policy and procedure to deal with exposure to infectious materials/organisms that includes:
 - a) the identification of workers who may be exposed;
 - b) a description of ways infectious materials or organisms can enter the body of a worker;
 - c) a description of signs and symptoms of disease that may arise from exposure;
 - d) appropriate first aid treatment to the exposure site;
 - e) indications for prompt medical evaluation, counseling, and prophylactic treatment;
 - f) appropriate work restrictions for specific infections;
 - g) infection control measures including the limitations of such measures;
 - h) the reporting of cases of communicable diseases as mandated by the Saskatchewan Health Communicable Disease Control Regulations and the Public Health Act; and,
 - i) annual infection control education and evaluation.

8. Biomedical waste should be disposed of in accordance with the Saskatchewan Biomedical Waste Management Guidelines.

Subject: Lifting and Moving

18.3 LIFTING AND MOVING

POLICY

1. The Regional Health Authority shall have a policy and procedure in place concerning any lifting or moving that a home care worker must do in the course of their work. The policy and procedure should aim to reduce the incidence and the potential risks of musculoskeletal injuries among home care staff.
2. The Regional Health Authority will have in place policies and procedures which are compliant with The Occupational Health and Safety Act and regulations regarding lifting and moving.

GUIDELINES

1. The Regional Health Authority should provide the home care workers with instruction and information on:
 - a) assessment of load;
 - b) equipment available to assist workers in their tasks; and,
 - c) procedures to obtain mechanical equipment or assistance by another person.
2. When risk is identified, workers must be informed regarding the risk and common symptoms of musculoskeletal injuries, and be protected from the risk by:
 - a) providing equipment designed to reduce the effects of the activity, i.e., mechanical lifts; and,
 - b) implementing appropriate work practices and procedures to reduce harmful effects of an activity (e.g. always wash floors with a mop and pail, rather than washing floors on hands and knees).

Subject: Client Transportation

18.4 CLIENT TRANSPORTATION

POLICY

1. The Regional Health Authority shall have a policy in place concerning the transportation of clients in home care staff vehicles.
2. Given that the provision of such transportation is a legal issue that involves the consideration of liability concerns, Regional Health Authorities should seek legal consultation when developing their policy.
3. The following guidelines are only suggestions if the Regional Health Authority allows staff to provide transportation to clients.

GUIDELINES

1. Home Care Staff must possess a valid Saskatchewan Driver's licence.
2. The Regional Health Authority should consult with SGI regarding proper insurance and registration procedures.
3. Assistance to transfer a client in and out of a vehicle should be provided according to the care plan.
4. Clients with a history of violent or harassing behaviour should not be transported in a staff vehicle.
