Application of insurance money

45(1) A person having a claim against an insured for which indemnity is provided by virtue of an owner's certificate under this Part shall, notwithstanding that there is no contractual relationship with respect thereto between that person and the insurer, be entitled, upon recovering a judgment therefor against the insured, to have the insurance money payable under this Part applied in or towards satisfaction of that person's judgment and of any other judgments or claims against the insured covered by the indemnity and may, on behalf of that person and all persons having such judgments or claims, maintain an action against the insurer to have the insurance money so applied.

(2) No creditor of an insured shall be entitled to share in the insurance money payable under this Part in respect of any claim for which indemnity is not provided under this Part.

(3) No:

- (b) act or default of the insured before or after such event in violation of this Act; and
- (c) violation of the Criminal Code or of any law or statute of any province, state or country by the owner or driver of the vehicle designated in the certificate;

(4) Where the liability of the insurer under this Part is affected by subsection (1) of condition 7 of the statutory conditions set forth in section 48 or where there is in effect a policy of automobile insurance of the kind or class mentioned in subsection (2) of the said condition 7 without there having occurred on the part of the insured any violation of any term or condition of the policy sufficient in the particular instance to relieve the insurer issuing the policy from liability to indemnify the insured thereunder, nothing in this section prevents the insurer under this Act from availing itself, against the person making claim pursuant to this section, of any defence that the insurer is entitled to set up against the insured.

(5) An insured shall be liable to pay or reimburse the insurer upon demand, any amount that the insurer has paid by reason of this section that it would not otherwise be liable to pay.

(6.1) Where, pursuant to subsection (6):

- (a) the insurer has been made a third party; and
- (b) the insured has not filed a defence;

the insurer may at any stage of the proceedings settle the action and consent to judgment against the insured as if the insurer were the defendant in the action.

(7) Where the insurer is liable, or where it is of the opinion that it would be liable if an action were taken against it, to pay insurance money with respect to a claim under this Part but would not be so liable except for subsection (3) the insurer may, upon denying liability to the insured, notify the insured of the claim in writing sent by registered mail and addressed to the insured at the address of the insured last known to the insurer and if the insured does not, within thirty days after the date on which the notice is mailed, dispute the insured's liability for the loss, damage or injury in respect of which the claim is made, the insurer may settle the claim and, subject to subsection (8), the insured is liable to pay or reimburse the insurer upon demand the amount of the settlement.

(8) Where an insured agrees that the insurer would not, except for this section, be or become liable to make a payment in respect of a claim against the insured, the insured may, either before or after the making of such payment by the insurer, undertake to pay or reimburse the amount of the payment to the insurer by giving an undertaking as provided in clause (b) of subsection (3) of section 54 in which event the undertaking shall have the same force and effect as an undertaking given under that clause.

(9) Subject to subsection (8), the insurer may, on the payment of a sum under this section that it would not otherwise be liable to pay, require an assignment of the judgment from the judgment creditor to the extent of that payment and, unless within thirty days after demand for payment or reimbursement under subsection (5) has been made by the insurer the insured disputes in writing delivered to the head office of the insurer at the city of Regina his liability to pay or reimburse the insurer, section 57 applies mutatis mutandis.

(10) Where the insurer obtains judgment against an insured for the amount that the insured is liable to pay or reimburse the insurer under subsection (5) the judgment shall, for the purposes of Part XII of The Traffic Safety Act be treated as if it were in all respects a judgment for damages on account of the death of or injury to a person or on account of damage to property.

51(1) Where bodily injury to or the death of a person or property damage in excess of the amount specified for the purpose in the regulations arises out of the use or operation within Saskatchewan of a motor vehicle and:

- (a) the names of both the owner and the operator of the motor vehicle are not known or ascertainable; or any person who has a cause of action:

- (d) in the case mentioned in clause (b), against the operator;

in respect of the bodily injury, death or property damage may bring an action against the insurer as nominal defendant, either alone or as a defendant with others alleged to be responsible for the injury, death or property damage.

(2) No proceedings shall be brought against the insurer as nominal defendant under this section unless notice of all relevant facts is given in writing to the insurer as soon as it is reasonably practicable and in any event within twenty-eight days after the accident that occasioned the bodily injury, death or property damage.

(3) An action under this section against the insurer as nominal defendant may be commenced only within the time limited by section 257 of The Traffic Safety Act for bringing an action against the owner or operator of the vehicle.

(4) Where, after an action has been commenced in respect of bodily injury to or the death of a person or property damage in excess of the amount specified for the purpose in the regulations arising out of the use or operation in Saskatchewan of a motor vehicle, it is alleged that the injury, death or property damage was caused or contributed to by another motor vehicle, but:

- (a) the names of both the owner and the operator of the motor vehicle are not known or ascertainable; or the insurer may be added as a nominal defendant on the application of any party and shall be added as a nominal defendant on its own application.

(5) In an action against the insurer as nominal defendant, the insurer may deny generally the allegations in respect of the unidentified motor vehicle and the owner and operator thereof and shall not be required to set forth the facts upon which it relies.

(6) In an action against the insurer as nominal defendant, a judgment against the insurer shall not be granted unless the court is satisfied that all reasonable efforts have been made by the parties to ascertain the identity of the unknown owner and operator or unknown operator, as the case may be, and that the identity of those persons or that person is not ascertainable.

(7) Where, before judgment is granted in an action against the insurer as nominal defendant, the identity of the unknown owner or operator is ascertained, then, notwithstanding section 257 of The Traffic Safety Act or section 33 of The Snowmobile Act but subject to section 41, that owner or operator shall be added as a defendant in the action in substitution for the insurer, subject to such conditions as the court may prescribe.

(8) The insurer may if it thinks fit compromise and settle the claim or claims of any person entitled to commence an action under this section.

(9) Upon the rendering of a judgment against the insurer as nominal defendant under this section and upon the expiration of the time limited for appeal therefrom or upon the compromise and settlement of any claim under this section, the insurer shall pay in or towards satisfaction of the judgment or claim an amount equal to that which in like circumstances the insurer is authorized to pay under section 42 in a case where:

and, subject to section 42, if the damage to property caused by the motor vehicle is in excess of the amount specified for the purpose in the regulations, the amount payable by the insurer under this section is the amount by which the damage exceeds the amount prescribed in the regulations.

(10) Where under this section, a judgment has been obtained against the insurer as nominal defendant or the insurer has settled any claim, the insurer may apply:

- (a) to a judge of the court where the judgment has been obtained; or
- (b) in the case where a claim has been settled, to a judge of the court that would have had jurisdiction to entertain an action for the recovery of damages to the amount of the settlement;

for an order certifying that any person was at the time of the accident the owner or operator of the motor vehicle that caused the bodily injury, death or property damage in respect of which the judgment was obtained or the settlement made.

(11) If the judge hearing an application under subsection (10) is satisfied on the evidence that the person named in the application was, at the time of the accident that caused the bodily injury, death or property damage giving rise to the action in which the judgment was recovered or to the claim that has been settled, the owner or operator, or both, of the motor vehicle involved in that accident, the judge may make the order applied for unless the judge is satisfied that the person would not have been liable for any damages if the person had appeared and defended the action that was brought or, in the case of a claim settled before action, any action that might have been brought to enforce the claim, or the judge may direct the trial of an issue.

(12) Upon the making of an order under subsection (11) or upon the judgment of the trial of an issue directed under that subsection, the person certified therein to be the owner or operator or owner and operator of the motor vehicle causing the bodily injury, death or property damage, whether or not the operator of the motor vehicle is named in an unexpired operator's certificate and whether or not the motor vehicle is designated in an unexpired owner's certificate, shall be liable to pay to the insurer as a debt due and owing to the insurer the amount of all sums paid by the insurer pursuant to any judgment or settlement under this section and the order or judgment shall be treated, for the purpose of Part XII of The Traffic Safety Act, as if it were in all respects a judgment for damages on account of the death of or injury to a person or on account of damage to property.

Subrogation - payments pursuant to Parts II, III and IV

80(1) If the insurer makes any payment pursuant to Part II, III or IV or assumes any liability pursuant to Part II, III or IV, the insurer is subrogated to and deemed to be an assignee of all rights of recovery of the person to whom or on whose behalf or with respect to whom any benefits or insurance money was or is to be paid or provided.

(2) Notwithstanding subsection (1), if the insurer makes any payment pursuant to Part II, III or IV with respect to loss, damage, injury or death caused by the fault of an operator or owner designated in an unexpired operator's certificate or an unexpired owner's certificate, the insurer may bring an action in its own name or join in an action pursuant to this section against that operator or owner only where that operator or owner has forfeited the right to claim any or all payments pursuant to Part II, III or IV by reason of section 78.

(3) If the net amount recovered, whether by action or settlement, is, after deducting the cost of recovery, not sufficient to provide complete indemnity for the loss or damage suffered, the amount remaining is to be divided between the insurer and the insured in proportion to the loss or damage that has been borne by each of them.

(4) If recovery is limited pursuant to this section to the amount paid or provided pursuant to Part II, III or IV, the insurer is entitled to have control of the action and may bring a separate action in its own name to recover the amount paid or provided.

(5) If the interests of the insured in any recovery exceed the amount mentioned in subsection (4):

(a) the insurer may join with the person to whom or on whose behalf or with respect to whom the payment is made to bring one action in the name of the person for recovery of the damages resulting from the loss, damage, injury or death; and

(b) the insured and the person to whom or on whose behalf or with respect to whom the payment is made may agree to any arrangements as to the apportionment of the costs of recovery.

(6) If an action is brought pursuant to subsection (5) and the insurer and insured cannot agree as to all or any of the following matters, either party may apply to the court for the determination of those matters:

(a) the lawyers to be instructed to bring an action in the name of the insured;

(b) the conduct or carriage of the action or any matter relating to the action;

(c) any offer of settlement or apportionment of the offer of settlement, whether an action has been commenced or not;

(d) the acceptance of any money paid into court or the apportionment of that money;

(e) the apportionment of costs;

(f) the launching or prosecution of an appeal.

(7) On an application pursuant to subsection (6), the court may make any order that it considers reasonable having regard to the interests of the insurer and the insured in any recovery in the action or proposed action or in any offer of settlement.

(8) On an application pursuant to subsection (6), the only parties entitled to receive notice and to be heard are the insurer and the insured, and no material or evidence used on the application is admissible in any legal proceedings brought by or against the insurer or the insured.

(9) Subject to subsection (6), if a person is notified that the insurer has made or is making a claim or commencing a proceeding pursuant to subsections (4) and (5):

- (a) that person shall not negotiate settlement of any claim to the prejudice of the insurer except at that person's own cost; and
- (b) if that person has received benefits or insurance money, that person:
 - (i) shall not interfere in any negotiations for settlement or in any legal proceeding but whenever requested to do so by the insurer shall aid in securing information and evidence and the attendance of any witness; and
 - (ii) shall co-operate with the insurer in any action or proceeding or in the prosecution of any appeal.

(10) A settlement or release given before or after an action is brought pursuant to subsection (6) does not bar the rights of the insurer or the insured, as the case may be, unless they have concurred in the settlement or release.

(11) If the insurer is entitled to bring or join in an action against any person pursuant to this section, in assessing the damages, no account shall be taken for the benefit of that person of the benefits or insurance money paid or payable pursuant to Part II, III or IV with respect to the loss, damage, injury or death caused by the fault of that person whether or not the right assigned to the insurer and to which the insurer is subrogated arises pursuant to The Fatal Accidents Act or otherwise.

- (6) For the purposes of clause (4)(b), the insurer and the person to whom or with respect to whom or for whose benefit the payment is made or is payable may make an arrangement to apportion the costs of recovery.
- (7) Where the insurer is entitled to bring or join an action pursuant to this section against another person, no account must be taken for the benefit of that other person of the payments made or payable pursuant to this Act with respect to the loss or damage caused by the other person.
- (8) For the purposes of Part XII of The Traffic Safety Act, where the insurer obtains a judgment against a person responsible for the loss or damage:
- (a) the judgment is to be treated as if it were a judgment for damages on account of damage to property; and
 - (b) the administrator may deal with the person against whom the insurer obtains a judgment as if that person were a person against whom a judgment for damages on account of damage to property was obtained.
