

Instructions to Request a Revision and/or Extension to a Certificate of Nomination

Please be advised that SINP will NOT revise or extend a nomination certificate if you have received a letter from Immigration, Refugee Citizenship Canada (IRCC) stating that your application for permanent residency has been refused. In this case, your SINP application is now considered closed and the SINP nomination certificate number cannot be used again. You may re-apply with a new, complete, online application to the SINP. All new applications will be subject to availability within the current intake thresholds, as well as the SINP criteria that is in place at that time.

In order to revise and/or extend your nomination:

- Read the SINP Procedural Guidelines to view the procedure for amendments to a nomination certificate.

Examples of reasons you may request a Revision and/or Extension:

- IRCC requests a revised and/or extended nomination certificate.
- You have a new job offer from the same or different employer.
- You and/or your accompanying family members have obtained new passports.
- Your nomination certificate has expired and you require additional time to submit your application for permanent residency.
- You have updated your Express Entry Profile Number and Job Seeker Validation Code.

Please note:

- The SINP will not revise your certificate of nomination to reflect a change in family composition (i.e. new child, change in marital status).
- If approved, a nomination with a revision and/or extension will be sent by email to the applicant listed on the Request for a Revision and/or Extension Form.
- Requests for extensions and/or revisions on files older than 2 years may require further documentation.

Instructions:

1. Please type your information in the Request for Revision and/or Extension Form (page3);
2. Print and sign the Form;
3. Scan and upload the Form; and
4. Submit to the SINP at: immigration@gov.sk.ca
5. Please insert your Nomination Certificate # in the subject line of your email as follows:
